Tax Bill To Receive Quick Signing After Senate Okay

Donkey Knows When It's Hot

'AND YOU CALL ME ONE,' says this disgusted donkey, whose early-morning stroll down Columbia St. was interrupted by police. "When else but in the cool of a morning is a fellow to get some exercise?" Resigned to the inferior intellect of man, who would go out in the noonday sun, the wearied burro waits for his owner, a Sugar St. resident, to claim him while Ed Roberts, a city service department employe, ponders what to do with him. The donkey was spotted by Ray Spires rambling down the street at 5:30 a.m. and was lassoed by police after a brief chase down Columbia St. The donkey knows when its cool, all right. It dropped to a low of 63 before dawn after a blistering 87 degrees yesterday.

U.S. Expects West To Spurn Red Proposals

Dulles Hopes French, British Will Unite in Saying No to Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U. S. government is looking to Britain and France to knock the props from under a Russian proposal for talks later this year on a new European security system which would include the Red bloc.

An initial exchange of reactions among Washington, London and Paris officials, authorities said today, indicates they see eye to eye on this issue—despite evident Russian hopes that peace in Indochina might swing Western European opinion away from the United States position.

Soviet Position Improved

U. S. authorities still think it possible the Soviet proposition may get a little more popular support than it did before the Geneva conference produced a peace agreement on Indochina.

The Reds then gained an initiative in the cold war conflict, and their revival of the European proposal first advanced early this year was clearly an effort to use that initiative in the field of European affairs.

American, British and French representatives will meet in two or three weeks to draft replies to the Kremlin note which they received last Saturday. These probably will not be identical.

EDC Main Target

U. S. officials argue that the Russian proposal for all the European nations to get together in one big security system is a matter on which European governments can speak more properly and directly than this one. Then, too, the State Department wants to avoid the suggestion of pressing the European governments to take an unfavorable stand on this issue. The official position is it is up to them to make up their minds and to say what they think.

However, the first three-way ex-

Road Worker Hospitalized as Mercury Soars

A Marion state highway department employe was overcome by heat prostration this morning as Marion continued to swelter under hot sticky temperatures.

George Goyer of 603 Frey Ave. was the victim. Overcome by heat while working near Marion on Route 23, he was rushed to City Hospital in a Hughes ambulance and was reported in a coma shortly before noon.

The mercury had climbed to 83 near noon today and the Ohio forecast called for temperatures of 90 to 95. Saturday's forecast calls for fair and hot weather.

High in Marion yesterday was 87 while the overnight low was 63. A year ago, it was 91 and 70.

Car Overturns North of City, Two Men Hurt

Two persons were injured when the car in which they were riding went off the road on State Route 4, just north of its intersection with U. S. Route 23, and turned over. It was the only accident reported today by state patrolmen from the Marion post.

Patrolmen report the accident happened at 2:30 this morning. Driver of the car was James H. Berry, 32, of 866 Garfield St. He was uninjured.

However, two passengers in the auto, Ted Draper, 34, of 373 Commercial St. and T. P. Kelly, 41, of 474 Mary St. were taken to Marion City Hospital for treatment.

Draper suffered a bruised right shoulder, while Kelly received lacerations of the scalp. Both were treated and released. The top and both sides of the car were demolished. Patrolmen could give no reason for the auto leaving the highway.

Police Ponder Next Move in Sheppard Case

Golf Club Is Sought As Possible Weapon; Husband Stays Silent

CLEVELAND (AP) — A murder warrant and a missing golf club got top consideration today in the Sheppard murder case.

Law Director Richard S. Weygandt of suburban Bay Village took the complete file of evidence and went into seclusion. It will be up to him and Bay Village Mayor J. Spencer Houk to decide whether to issue a warrant on the basis of present information.

Gives No Indication

Weygandt gave no indication of when he might reach a decision. Last night he reported he did not "have enough information to satisfy me that an arrest should be made now."

Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard, who has been questioned extensively on the July 4 slaying of his 31-year-old wife, Marilyn, had no comment on the latest turn of events.

County law authorities yesterday decided to let officials in Bay Village, where the crime occurred, decide on whether to make an arrest.

Mayor Houk, a neighbor and close friend of Dr. Sheppard, remained at his home under a doctor's care. He was reported in a state of nervous exhaustion.

The missing golf club was a No. 9 iron known to have been in Mrs. Sheppard's golf bag two days before she was beaten to death in her bed.

Might Be Weapon

Deputy Police Inspector James E. McArthur said the club might well be the murder weapon and an all-out search was being pushed to locate it.

Coroner Samuel R. Gerber pointed out that the club was one of the shortest in the bag and that it was believed the murder weapon was short-handled.

The killer apparently wielded the weapon while standing in the narrow space between the bed and wall, crushing the victim's face with at least 27 heavy blows.

Inspector McArthur complained that many friends and acquaintances of the Sheppards "are reluctant or unwilling to give us information."

Cites Brutality of Killer

He said he believed everyone would cooperate in running down the slayer if they fully realized the vicious and brutal nature of the killing. Actually, just one or two of the blows would have been sufficient to kill the woman, he said.

Cleveland Police Chief Frank W.

B-12 Examined

'Wonder Vitamin' Eyed, Fails To Help Old People

BALTIMORE (AP)—The "wonder vitamin," B-12 is under suspicion.

Johns Hopkins' scientists suspect B-12 of failing to perform wonders for old folk. And they're going to give it the third degree at Maryland Penitentiary.

For the last five years, thousands of elderly persons have been gulping B-12 at a furious rate, both under doctors' prescriptions and as the result of patent medicine advertising. Their hope . . . to find renewed vigor.

But the biochemical cops at Hopkins have had the wonder vitamin under surveillance.

Form Two Theories

Under direction of Dr. Bacon F. Chow, the biochemists tested B-12 on residents of a nursing home and a group of Hopkins students. They formed two theories:

1. Old folks tend to absorb large quantities of vitamin B-12 when it is given as shots.

2. But they have difficulty in absorbing it—no matter how much they need it—when they take it in pill or liquid form.

Dr. Chow said B-12 is an all right vitamin, no question about that, when it comes to aiding persons suffering from anemia and children afflicted with tuberculosis, rheumatic fever and the like.

In children, the vitamin has proved it can aid growth and general well-being.

And it's a help to the old folks when it's absorbed.

Suitable Test Group

The trouble with the experiments that led to formation of the theories was that the nursing home residents and the Hopkins students live vastly different lives. That could affect the results, Dr. Chow said.

Only in prison, he said, can scientists find large numbers of individuals—young, middle-aged and

May Avoid Showdown

Senators Dubious On M'Carthy Issue

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — The cards appeared today to be falling in favor of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) as the Senate approached debate on a move to censure his Communist-hunting behavior.

Sen. Flanders (R-Vt) said he regards as "still good" the prospect that the Senate eventually will adopt his proposal to censure McCarthy for what Flanders calls unbecoming conduct. But there was general agreement that a substantial number of senators would like to avoid any showdown vote now on the politically explosive issue.

Compromise Possible

In this atmosphere there were indications Republican friends of McCarthy may come up with some compromise to shelve the matter at least until after the November elections for control of Congress.

Sen. Knowland of California, the Republican leader, said he will open the way for debate on the Flanders proposal during today's session.

He and Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Democratic leader, agreed in separate interviews that final disposition of the matter is likely to be delayed until early next week.

McCarthy remained publicly silent about Flanders' proposal, except to say he probably won't be on hand to hear the Vermonter's speech. But he took a dig at Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ) who suggested a seven-member committee headed by Vice President Nixon be set up to investigate "McCarthyism" and report back next year.

Rips Smith

McCarthy said:

"I think I will offer either an amendment to the Flanders resolution or a separate resolution providing that in view of the fact there is a difference of opinion as to whether Smith is a brilliant, average or mediocre senator I would like to have the Senate investigate that and report back in 1970 or 1980."

Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark) predicted that if the issue of McCarthy's conduct of Communist-in-government inquiries can be brought to a direct vote, the Senate would censure him. But Fulbright said he recognized such a vote might be avoided

"A majority of senators don't want to vote on this at all," he said

Sen. Monroney (D-Okla), like Fulbright a vigorous critic of McCarthy, was less sure of the result. He said he doubts more than 5 of the Senate's 47 Republicans would vote with Flanders. He guessed about 33 of the Senate's 48 Democrats might support the censure resolution.

The Oklahoman said, however, that the attitude taken by Sen. McClellan (D-Ark) on his return to Washington Monday may now influence other Democrats. McClellan, senior Democrat on McCarthy's Investigations subcommittee, has declined to say thus far how he stands on the Flanders proposal.

Lose Fight

Monroney and Fulbright lost in a Democratic Policy Committee meeting yesterday their fight to make the issue a party matter.

Johnson announced after about four hours of debate behind closed doors that the issue raised by Flanders' proposal was "a matter of conscience upon which each individual senator should vote his convictions without regard to party affiliation." He said this also covered Smith's proposal.

Smith told newsmen he believes "every candidate up (for election) today is going to be put right on the spot" by the Flanders proposal and he thought it would be wise to postpone a showdown.

Considerations of the possible political effects seemed to have swayed previous efforts by Knowland to kill the issue off quickly. In announcing yesterday that he will not make such a motion, the majority leader made it clear he feels GOP colleagues are making a mistake in stirring up a controversy, but is resigned to letting it run its course.

He said he is opposed to the Flanders proposal.

Critic Charges Bell Rate Base Off $20 Million

Lively PUCO Hearing On Phone Company's Bid for Hike Continues

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Akron's utility commissioner, William M. Wasick, told the state utilities commisison today the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. used different methods of figuring the company's present value and the value of retired property.

This results in an inflated rate base, Wasick said at a hearing on the company's application to increase its rates by $8,913,000 a year.

Claims Error

Wasick claimed Ohio Bell's rate base is off 20 million dollars in the company's favor due to errors in retirement figures and failure to include price reductions on equipment supplied it by its manufacturing affiliates, Western Electric Co.

Commissioner Ray Martin asked Wasick if he had considered Western Electric price increases. Wasick replied he couldn't "indulge in phantasy" because the increases are "all hearsay and not in the record."

Yesterday the commission's assistant chief engineer, Paul E. Reed, had testified price increases and reductions tended to offset each other.

Under Ohio law a utility is entitled to a fair return on the value of its property. It arrives at its rate base figure by subtracting from its valuation property taken out of service.

'Grossly Understated'

Wasick, under direct examination by Richard O. Gantz, assistant law director of Akron, claimed the company "grossly understates the value of the property retired." He added, "We have discovered apparent errors" in the way the com-

Evacuees Clog Roads to Hanoi; Thousands Flee

Pro-French Abandon North Viet Nam in Wake of Cease-Fire

SON TAY, Indochina (AP) — The film already glazes the Vietnamese woman's unseeing eyes.

Her mouth opens and closes in slow, agonizing gasps.

Each tired, wheezing breath could be her last.

Fresh blood stains the bright red bandage where a foot had been before she stepped on a mine this morning.

A pool of darker red spreads on the dirty mud-colored stretcher on which she lies.

Her Vietnamese soldier husband places a tender hand under her jaw as if to ease its painful working. He does not know what else to do as he looks long at her face, then closes his eyes. He does not weep.

End of Route

For her, it is probably the end of the evacuation route that was to have taken her first to Hanoi, then to Haiphong, eventually to somewhere below the Geneva partition line that cuts Viet Nam in half.

She is only one of the host of pro-French Vietnamese who are pouring into Hanoi, seeking evacuation away from the oncoming control—and possibly vengeance—of the Communist-led Vietminh. Thousands are fleeing to Hanoi; millions are staying behind.

The woman's soldier husband is one of a handful of Vietnamese who manned a tiny French Union outpost, 10 miles up the river from sector headquarters here.

Thirty-five miles northwest of Hanoi, it is one of 18 posts in the Son Tay sector, which French forces must quit before Aug. 11.

Conductors Protest

Crossing Block Solution Sought by Officials Here

Proposals to help eliminate some of the blocking of railroad crossings in downtown Marion were made at a meeting held Thursday noon in city hall.

Called by D. J. Finley of the Order of Railroad Brakemen and Conductors, Division 51, the meeting was attended by city and county officials and another union representative.

FINLEY DESCRIBED a "condition" which sometimes causes Erie and New York Central trains to block downtown crossings, and occasionally results in the arrest of a conductor on a charge of blocking a crossing.

Finley said that the conductor has no control over these "conditions" and that it is the responsibility of everyone in the city to be patient when crossings are blocked and to look for a proper solution of the problem."

He explained that oftentimes a train which is westbound on the Erie-New York Central tracks is first stopped by a block signal at the east edge of the city because of a north or southbound train on the C & O or Pennsylvania tracks. When it appears the railroad intersections at the Union Station will be clear, the westbound train is signalled to come on in, he said.

FOR ONE REASON or another, things sometimes go wrong and the train is again stopped by a block signal just west of Oak St. When this happens all the downtown crossings as well as the Greenwood St. crossing may be blocked, he added.

If the train is held up more than a few minutes, the conductor is faced with the possibility of being arrested, yet there is nothing he can do to correct the situation. It is impractical for him to cut the train at each crossing because even then the automatic crossing gates

Cleveland First Stop on Nurse's Western Flight

WASHINGTON (AP) — The heroic nurse of Dien Bien Phu begins today her trip across the continent still the same modest girl who arrived last Monday in the United States to be hailed as few unofficial visitors have been.

Flight nurse Genevieve de Gallard-Terraube arranged to fly aboard a Defense Department plane to the west coast with her first stop at Cleveland today.

Citing her nearly 10 weeks care of wounded and sick in the besieged fortress in Viet Nam as "unsurpassed in this century," President Eisenhower conferred upon her yesterday the Medal of Freedom with bronze palm.

As he pinned the ribbon emblem to her white uniform; the President said it was "well earned."

Her low voiced reply was: "Thank you for this great honor. I don't deserve it. I feel it is intended for the gallant men who fought at Dien Bien Phu for the defense of freedom."

She is in this country as the result of a resolution introduced by Rep. Frances Bolton (R-Ohio) and passed by Congress.

In Cleveland they plan to stay with Mrs. Bolton's son, Kenyon, and his wife.

HELD FOR HOLDUP

IRONTON, Ohio (AP)—Police here said they are holding George B. Curley Jr., 23, in connection with a $1,200 holdup of the Blackstone Cafe in Cleveland last May 27. Cleveland police said they would come here to get Curley.

Big Measure Ike's Program Cornerstone

Presidential Approval Of Tax Law Overhaul Is Virtually Assured

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress completed action last night on the first complete overhaul of the nation's tax laws in 75 years, and both Republicans and Democrats claimed they would profit more politically.

Whatever the political effects may be in the coming campaign for control of Congress, the action sent to the White House for virtually certain approval the bill President Eisenhower had designated as the cornerstone of his 1954 program.

Snipe at Changes

Before a 61-26 vote in the Senate sent the bill to the President, Democrats seized a final chance to snipe at some provisions.

Only three Republicans—Dworshak (Idaho), Langer (ND) and Williams (Del)—joined 22 Democrats and Sen. Morse (Ind-Ore) in voting "no." Supporters included 42 Republicans and 19 Democrats.

The revision bill carries $1,365,000,000 in assorted tax cuts for individuals and corporations in its first year of operation, more in later years. It does not change major tax rates except to maintain the 52 per cent levy on corporation income which dropped to 47 per cent April 1 and is extended retroactively.

Campaign Fodder

Republicans hailed the bill as capping a 7½-billion-dollar 1954 tax reduction program—biggest for any single year. This already has been used in GOP campaign material.

Democrats interject here that two big boons to the taxpayer took effect automatically under a 1951 law enacted when their party controlled Congress.

These include two big reductions which took effect Jan. 1—three billion dollars through a 10 per cent personal income tax cut and two billions through expiration of the corporation excess profits tax.

On April 1 various excise tax cuts totalling a billion dollars took effect. These were fought by the Treasury but enthusiastically supported by Republican congressional leaders.

Wide Change

Republicans also contend the big revision bill will be politically helpful to them because it contains benefits for such groups as retired persons, families with heavy medical expenses, mothers who must work to support their children, fathers with children in college who earn part of their way, and farmers with big soil conservation expenditures.

GOP leaders from the President down argue the bill will spur business by providing more funds for plant expansion and modernization through a wide variety of more liberal deductions for businesses. This will mean more jobs, they say.

Democrats, claiming they will

Laborites Abstain

Vote of Confidence Given Churchill on Suez Pacts

LONDON (AP)— Parliament got ready to close shop for the summer recess today after according Prime Minister Churchill a 10-1 confidence vote on his plan to pull British troops from the Suez Canal zone. Most Laborites abstained on the ballot.

The House of Commons backed the prime minister's historic decision by a vote of 257-26 after Churchill made an impassioned declaration that the H-bomb had rendered the billion dollar, 75-year-old string of bases obsolete.

Parliament Recesses

Both Commons and the House of Lords, which also debated the controversial Suez issue, begin their summer recess today. They will not reconvene until October.

Churchill, who is World War II remarked he had not become prime minister in order to liquidate the empire, declared yesterday the whole British position in the Suez had been outdated by "the appalling developments and the appalling spectacles which imagination raises before us."

"Merely to try to imagine in outline how to portray the first few weeks of a war as it is now . . . would convince you of the obsolescence of the base," he asserted.

The agreement, which has strong U.S. support, calls for the transfer of 83,000 British troops from their Suez base within 20 months after a seven-year pact is signed.

Could Return in War

The pact will give Britain the right to reoccupy the base in case of attack on Turkey or any of the eight Arab nations. Civilian caretakers under contract to Britain will keep up the great installations dominating the vital waterway.

A group of 40 rebellious Conservatives had threatened to break the party traces over the prospect of seeing another portion of the empire pass out of British hands. But in the final test, only 26 Tories voted against the government.

Betts Satisfied At Wheat Vote

Advises Slow Return To Farming Normalcy

Congressman Jackson E. Betts of the eighth congressional district, today expressed satisfaction with the results of the wheat marketing vote in his district where the referendum was defeated by a large margin.

According to Betts, the vote in this district bore out the feeling of his local constituents as indicated by a large volume of mail he had received in past weeks on the subject.

Although the rigid price support program was approved by a slim marglin over the nation, Betts said the present voting system favors the large Western grain farmers and he felt the flexible price support program would better serve the public.

Betts said he felt the question of voting qualifications should have been re-examined at this session of Congress, but proponents of high-level supports wanted this measure retained, and administration supporters felt the return to agricultural normalcy must be undertaken one step at a time.

The sector commander, Col. Francois d'Aboville, will have all his men, their weapons, supplies and families inside Son Tay tonight. He will be ready to begin their withdrawal to Hanoi almost immediately.

The Vietminh won't be far behind. Underground representatives probably are already in the town, probably have been here for months.

The 50,000 civilians in the Son Tay area must make up their minds this week or early next if they want to leave or stay.

Corporate Reports Show Profits Parallel With '53

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The first 416 corporations to report on earnings show that profits from American industry and trade are running neck and neck today with booming 1953.

But for an unusually large number of corporations, the profit and loss statements are either very good or very bad.

Half of the companies are doing better than last year—some blazing new trails into record high profits for the first half of the year. The general business slump may have cut their sales totals, but lighter taxes push them into new high ground.

Just about as many are trailing last year's first six months' earnings. And 17 of the companies operated in the red so far this year. Only five did a year ago.

Major Gainers

Utilities and communication companies gained much more than did industrials. Railroads were dragging—25 of the 28 showing declines in earnings this year, and four reporting net losses.

The 416 corporations' combined net profit after taxes comes to $3,335,328,254. The same companies earned $3,268,213,308 in the first half of 1953. This puts them 2 per cent ahead this year, with 211 of them showing gains over a year ago.

The 368 industrials in the list had combined earnings 6.7 per cent ahead of a year ago. The 20 utilities showed a combined increase of 51 per cent. But the 28 rails were off 44 per cent.

Biggest gains this year were made by aircraft companies, reflecting defense spending as well as tax relief. Motors reporting so far are ahead, with General Motors' gains setting the pace. The end of the excess profits tax helped here.

Cement companies as a group did well, reflecting the demands of the booming construction industry. Business machines, oil equipment, electrical equipment, and heavy machinery were listed among the better gainers.

Gain 14 Per Cent

The 10 tobacco companies reporting so far show a combined gain of 14 per cent, despite sales fluctuations due to health scares.

Coal, textiles, carpets, alcoholic beverages, farm equipment, tools, and mining companies operated in the red, as did five of the 14 textile firms.

Steel companies did better than many had expected. Although 24 of 30 companies had lower profits than in the 1953 period—which represented the peak of their production boom—their combined earnings were off only 14 per rent.

Steel sales were down considerably more than that. But federal tax payments were so much smaller this year that profits held fairly well.

And many steel companies report that the April-May-June period found profits rising well above their low point in the first three months of this year.

The sliding railroads blame most of their plight upon the business slump which affected their big customers more than the country as a whole. Durable goods makers and raw material suppliers shipped far less by rail this year than last, and rail operating revenues tumbled.

Utilities thank the record use of electric power for their impressive profit gains. Also, some had the benefit of higher rates.

Oil companies managed to stay ahead of last year by 7 per cent, but their current production, sales and price problems tend to tear down that gain.

Rarely has the profit picture been so spotted with gains and losses between industries and between companies in the same industry.

It seems to have been a recession only for some—continuing good business for many—and a boom for a few.

Tourists at U.N. Guided by Women

NEW YORK (UP) — Chalk up one United Nations victory for the distaff side.

Men squired visitors around the tall modernistic glass and marble UN headquarters when it first opened to the public in the fall of 1952. But the women moved in gradually, and now there are 75 conducting sightseeing tours.

Collectively, the tour leaders speak 20 languages besides English. About one-third of them were born outside the United States. Most of the others have lived abroad long enough to become fluent in several languages.

The current staff includes a former Methodist missionary who served in Africa, several school teachers, a former ballerina, an artist whose work has been exhibited in Manhattan galleries, a former morale officer in Korea, and a one-time door-to-door fruit peddler.

Most of the girl guides conduct at least five one hour-tours daily. Each tour covers about six city blocks.

Most of the guides after a short time on the job develop a soft spot in their hearts for Great Britain.

Crossing

would not rise and the time used to cut and reconnect the trains would likely tie up the crossings longer than if the train is not cut, according to Finley.

The conductors are particularly concerned because it is they who are arrested and fined and yet they are only following orders and are not actually at fault, he said.

CITY SOLICITOR George Piacentino noted that state law specifies that the man in charge of the train is responsible to see that it does not block crossings more than five minutes. This law also appears in the city code under Sec. 20.4.

Piacentino then made three proposals which the brakemen and conductor's union might undertake to help eliminate blocked crossings and prevent future arrests of their members. They were:

1. Incoming westbound trains be held at the block signal east of the city until it is certain they may pass through the city without stopping. If any doubt exists, the train should not be allowed to come in.

2. The present block signal west of Oak St. be moved or an additional block signal be added which would allow the trains to come in to just east of N. State St. where they could be stopped and held if necessary without blocking the downtown crossings.

3. The brakemen and conductors union could try to interest its members, members of other railroad brotherhoods and railroad company officials in helping to raise funds for a proposed city traffic survey which could lead to a grade crossing elimination program and eventual permanent solution of the problem.

THESE SUGGESTIONS are to be prepared in letter form by Mayor Harold F. Robinson and sent to the brakemen and conductor's union for further action.

Other officials, attending the meeting were Assistant City Solicitor Don Williamson, Safety-Director Ralph Forrest, Police Chief Thomas Coon, and Sheriff Glenn Obenour. C. R. Frye, a representative of the conductors and brakemens union also attended.

Taxes

benefit, say the bill concentrates benefits for big corporations and the wealthy, but does little or nothing for the average little man.

They tried in House and Senate to put in a general tax cut, but were beaten back on close votes.

The minority centers its fire on a provision in the bill giving relief to stockholders on their dividend income. This provision was sharply watered down from the form in which the President first recommended it. But Democratic orators contended that once the principle went into the law it could never be uprooted and probably would be extended.

Under it, the first $50 of dividend income is excluded entirely in figuring income tax. The major relief, though, comes from a provision permitting a stockholder to deduct from his tax 4 per cent of his dividend income above $50.

Supporters of this argued it would in part end "double taxation" of corporation profits, and also would provide more equity capital for business expansion.

Democrats contended 80 per cent of the relief, estimated at 360 millions a year when the plan reaches full effect, would go to one-sixth of 1 per cent of the population.

Most of the benefits in the bill are effective as of last Jan. 1 and thus can be figured in on returns filed next year. The bill, incidentally, tosses out the traditional March 15 filing date in effect since the income tax law was passed in 1913, and substitutes April 15.

The biggest revenue loss in the bill results from a new rapid depreciation write-off system allowed corporations and individuals. This will cost 323 millions in the first year, much more in succeeding years.

Conditions also are given more liberal treatment of research expenses, greater freedom to set aside surpluses, more power to offset losses in bad years against profits in good years, and less stringent accounting requirements. Mining companies get a whole new set of depletion allowances.

Big 3

changes indicate agreement that what the Soviets are really aiming at is destruction of the projected European Defense Community, on which action is supposed to be taken in the French Assembly by mid-August. EDC calls for the armament of West Germany as part of a six-nation army.

The Soviets in effect have held out to the French an alternative security system which the Kremlin obviously hopes would enable opponents of EDC to express their opposition more effectively.

Beyond the West European defense system, the Russians have also indicated in the past they would like to destroy the North Atlantic Treaty Organization as presently constituted. They proposed that they themselves join NATO and that the United States become a member of the European system.

Since NATO was originally formed and EDC was designed to provide effective counter forces to Soviet power in the European area, the participation of Russia in those organizations would destroy the whole purpose of their existence.

Jobless Claims Denied 5,800 Ford Workers

DETROIT (AP) — Unemployment compensation claims for 5,800 Ford Motor Co. employes were denied here. A referee for the Michigan Employment Security Commission said the 5,800 had given no written authority to represent them to the CIO Auto Workers Union lawyers who filed the claims.

The claims stemmed from a strike in Ford's Canton, Ohio, parts plant that caused layoffs in Detroit Ford factories 15 months ago.

Faces More Questions

Pretty Susan Hayes, 24-year-old laboratory technician who Prosecutor Frank L. Cullitan says admitted carrying on a romance with Dr. Sheppard, is scheduled for at least two more questioning periods. Story said his men plan "just a few more questions. Then we are going to open the door of the cage and let the bird fly away. I see no reason to hold her."

The body of Dr. Sheppard's 31-year-old wife was found in her bed early in the morning of July 4 after he phoned friends that an intruder had killed her. The 30-year-old osteopath later testified at a coroner's inquest that he was knocked unconscious twice in a fight with the killer.

Wasick told of examining company records and of coming up with a difference of one half million dollars in an eight-million-dollar retirement item. He said that account included buildings and some other items but did not take in all of the retired property involved in the case.

In testimony yesterday, Wasick said Ohio Bell had a depreciation reserve of approximately 30 million dollars which should be deducted from the rate base.

Sixty prisoners have volunteered to help with the experiments.

Dr. Chow said that if the theories are upheld, researchers will be faced with two possibilities. Either B-12 will have to be given to older people by injection or scientists will have to discover something that would help them absorb the vitamin when taken in pill or liquid form.

The idea of the whole experiment is to get vitamin B-12 into the body of the old folks where it can work its wonders.

"We are trying to add life to years," said Dr. Chow, "not just years to life. We are not interested in putting people on rocking chairs for long years. We want them to work and enjoy life."

Mixed Economy

By George Sokolsky

SOKOLSKY

The great debate over atomic power which frightened so many politicians is, in reality, a struggle over whether the economy of this country is to remain capitalistic, to become socialized, or to be what is sometimes called mixed. A better phrase would be mixed up.

Ultimately, all power, light and heat for the United States ought to come from atomic fission, into the production of this unit of industry, the government of the United States has poured approximately 5 billion dollars of the taxpayers' money. It can therefore be argued that this product of the Atomic Energy Commission is in the property of the government of the United States.

A little foresight, however, will undoubtedly frighten those who believe in capitalism because if the atomic energy industry is capable, at low cost, of providing power, light and heat, the coal and electricity industries will sooner or later go out of existence.

THIS MEANS that those who invested their private earnings in these industries will suffer a loss due to competition by the government unless the government purchases the plants and equipment. Those learned legislators who spoke of a "give away" would have been more correct had they used the term, "take away."

It can be said that new inventions make old industries obsolescent; that as new ideas and new methods prevail, they take the place of existing means of production and distribution, as the automobile replaced the horse and carriage.

In the changeover from one type of production and distribution, private enterprise has some opportunity for readjustment. Those who owned railroad shares could purchase automobile company shares. Very few such enterprises are monopolies owned by single individuals, but represent a wide distribution of ownership which amounts to public participation in the risk for profit or loss.

Whatever the government owns is a monopoly, held by the political power of the state. The combination of political and economic power, controlled by a bureaucracy that is impervious to the shifts in the elected echelons of government, leads inevitably to Fascism, which is the government control of both the political and economic power.

CAPITALISM IS an economic system in which the individual is able to invest his surplus earnings in enterprise according to his private judgment and at his own risk. Capitalism in the United States has been modified by the tax system which limits the accumulation of the individual's earnings first by a graduated income tax and secondly by a graduated inheritance tax.

The word, "graduated," is important because these taxes are so devised that all but those who possess inherited wealth or who are given exceptional deductions or who find means to evade the tax laws suffer from a roof on their end earnings: that is, take home pay or profits after taxes are limited by law.

These limitations have not served to end the period of expansion of American industry, but there is a constant fear in this country that the reservoirs of privately - owned capital will decrease.

Huge accumulations of private capital are held by the life insurance companies which are able to make loans for safe undertakings. Also, the government, during the war years, and subsequently, made large loans to private enterprises, some of which came into existence and expanded on government loans rather than by public participation in the enterprise.

SOME OF THESE benefits went to private individuals; some were eventually developed into publicly-owned enterprises. In a word, the government went into the banking business and is loaded down with partial ownership of numerous properties.

Similarly, through the Commodity Credit Corporation, the government is a hugh owner of foods and materials which are taken off or put on the market for political reasons.

The TVA and some other enterprises are owned by the government in competition with private companies producing power and light. Such government enterprises enjoy the advantage of not paying for the capital they use and of not paying taxes.

The development of atomic energy for power and light as a government enterprise will eliminate private capital from this phase of industry altogether. It could mean that the basis of all production will be socialized.

As every other industry is dependent upon light and power, all industry will, in a measure, be dependent upon the willingness of government to provide the product not competitively in the market but politically.

Two Worlds

By Victor Riesel

RIESEL

BERLIN

Today I'm writing with tears in my eyes, for in one day I've seen and have been shown and told of life and death in two lands, two worlds just a few feet distant from each other — no further than Broadway is from Seventh Ave. at 42nd St.; or Michigan Boulevard Chcago's State St., or San San Francisco's Market and Geary Streets.

I begin this story in the great exhibition hall in Berlin's fair grounds, where we had gathered to see the first election here of a German president since Adolph Hitler murdered his way to power. Proceedings began at five minutes after 3 p.m. the other Saturday. Over 1000 leaders of the new German Republic — who vote for the president — had gathered and cheered the nomination of the professorial Theodore Heuss.

Most of these delegates had to be flown in, but Berlin was chosen so that the free world could thumb its nose at Russian power just half a mile from the hall. The first nomination took 30 seconds.

Then at 3:15, a sleek, prematurely grey-haired man arose, strode to the podium — and there in free Berlin he had the gall to nominate the Communists' candidate in opposition to Dr. Heuss.

THIS SLEEK FELLOW was Max Reimann, leader of the Communists of Western Germany. Not a half mile away the Russians whom Reimann champions were literally killing anti-Communists. But Reimann got up and used the democratic gathering to spread Soviet propaganda.

He began his nominating "in the name of world peace." And he named a very old man called Alfred Weber, because Weber had talked out against war. Weber was no Communist, but so long as the Party could get a man who thought that war was more dreadful than living in a Soviet world, he was the Party's man. That's the new Soviet technique — back anti-Communists, non-Communists, pacifists, just so long as they will in some fashion delay the building of an armed force which can stop the Soviets.

And what did the thousand leaders of the German Republic do to this champion of the nation which has now imprisoned 18,000,000 Germans in the Russian Zone? They jeered Reimann. They told him to sit down. But they accorded him the democratic right to speak and to dominate.

They even let him heckle from the floor after the election, when reference was made to a group of maciated Germans sitting in the balcony who had just gotten out of deadly Soviet concentration camps.

Such is democracy. Comrad Max Reimann is from Duesseldorf, and heads a bloc of 10 Communists from Western Germany. There is democracy right here in this city even to those who would destroy it. Reimann's Communists have the right to run unions right here in Berlin. Those unions have 12,000 members, mostly railroad workers. But in all, they have 12 labor organizations. Those unions bargain with employers and sometimes strike, with the help of the Communist party here.

THE COMMIE UNIONS are opposed by the German counterpart of the AFL, called the DGB, which works on joint boards with employers to attract industry here, to get exhibitions to the coming Berlin Fair in September and to keep wages in line with the situation of the West Berlin free island 100 miles inside the Soviet world.

The anti-Communist union DGB has as its main objective, its leader Herr Cherowsky told me, the obtaining of orders from the outside world through a joint labor-management sales organization. So he, or some of his colleagues sit in on the board of directors of the big companies and the Berliner Bank, the Central Bank and others to see how labor can help keep private enterprise alive.

Across the street in the Soviet world, the little people, the starved underpaid workingmen — they fight too. They harass the Soviet government functionaries, who must keep moving from house to house and changing their phone numbers. The telephone girls soon pass on the unlisted numbers of the Red Germans who serve the Russians in East Germany. Then the working men ring this number throughout the night in relays. And the Red Gauleiters never sleep.

SO THE COMMUNISTS must constantly change phone numbers. They change their homes, too. For as soon as word is flashed from our underground friends here to the old time German unionists there that the address of a Red official is such and such, the milk wagon drivers forget to deliver, or smash the bottles, or worse. The food stores sent polluted food, or simply say politely they are out of stuff. The plumbing starts leaking and is never fixed.

Sometimes our friends are caught, and tortured. On July 10, nine were sentenced "in the name of the people" — always the people — as "economic saboteurs." Wilhelm Wolff was executed. Oskar Wolff was sent to hard labor for life. Etc., etc. Good little people. They — the anti-Communists — did not get the democracy which our side extends to Communists like Max Reimann.

Some will say that's our great strength. Perhaps! Perhaps it is our weakness.

Tales for Tourists

By Hal Boyle

RAPID CITY, S. D.

Leaves from a touring reporter's notebook: They have fresh hens' eggs on restaurant menus here—and 60 - million - year - old dinosaur eggs in museums.

HAL BOYLE

But the native tourist will do well to beware of any souvenir bargains offered him in dried porcupine eggs. They are nothing but dried cocklebburs, fixed up by local pranksters to kid the visitors.

The Black Hills, home of free-roaming buffalo and the famous Mt. Rushmore memorial, has had a fabulous past. The area now has become one of the nation's big tourist meccas, but a guy from out of town finds it hard to know what to believe. For the folks here still have the old pioneer fondness for a good yarn, whether it is actually a true story or only a tall tale.

TAKE WIND CAVE for example which has 10 miles of explored passage-ways and several huge chambers. One called "the bridal chamber" was named, according to a guide, because of a girl who figured the only way she could carry out a promise to her mother she would never marry the best man on earth—and still get the guy she wanted—was to marry him in the cavern.

But no such ceremonies have been allowed, according to the same guide, because "naturally the government doesn't want to run matrimony into the ground."

Everyone recalls the tragic fate of Gen. George A. Custer and more than 200 men wiped out in the battle of the Little Big Horn River in Montana on June 25, 1876. The Indians, who always resented the fact the battle was called a "massacre," still point out that the white troops were fully armed—and they weren't packing water pistols.

FEW TODAY REMEMBER, however that Custer was sent to the Black Hills in 1874, following the financial panic of 1873, to check on reports the hills held gold.

Custer set forth on his journey from a fort on the present site of Bismarck, N.D., with a force of a thousand men led by a brass band mounted on white horses. The expedition, accompanied by the son of President U.S. Grant, carried a supply of champagne in its wagons. Presumably they cooled it in mountain streams; there were no ice salesmen along the route.

The strange caravan did find gold on Aug. 2, 1874 in the Black Hills, which for centuries the Indians had held to be the inviolate home of Manitou, the Great Spirit. Less than two years later Custer, neither the first nor the last American military leader to underrate an enemy, and the men with him were washed out by waves of vanishing redskins who didn't choose at that particular moment to vanish.

NO BAND BLARED on that day, and it wasn't champagne that flowed.

Wild Bill Hickok lives in legend as one of the West's great gunmen. Although some scholars believe he may have bored to death more people than he drilled.

But undoubtedly he was a tall, handsome, picturesque figure. The undertaker who laid him out for burial after a deadbeat shot him to death in a Deadwood saloon described him as "the prettiest corpse I ever have seen." It isn't every day a man gets a heartfelt compliment like that.

Highwaymen made the shipment of gold a risky business for express companies in old Deadwood. The shipments were kept as secret as possible — with one exception. That was the time Wyatt Earp, an authentic gun fighter, rode as guard on the stage. Earp, who had made his name earlier as marshal of bloody Dodge City and Abilene, had spent an unprofitable year selling wood and coal in Deadwood. He agreed to go as guard on the stage to Cheyenne for passage money and $50 in cash—and because he wanted to move on.

THE EXPRESS AGENT immediately issued a newspaper ad advising bullion shippers:

"The spring cleanup will leave for Cheyenne on the regular stage at 7 a.m. next Monday. Wyatt Earp will ride shotgun."

The shipppers, eager for this kind of protection, loaded $200,000 on the coach. Earp got the shipment through on time and without incident—except for winging a passing horseman he thought rode too close.

Even in the Wild West advertising paid.

Investigators found the body of the woman's husband, Dexter Reed, about 70, at the home. Police said he died from a shotgun blast above the heart. Reed was an old age pensioner.

Dr. Porterfield Outlines State Hospitals Status

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio has made capital expenditures of $46,033,408 on its 13 state mental hospitals during the past 10 years, Dr. John D. Porterfield said today.

Dr. Porterfield directs the new Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction.

In addition, he said the state has spent another $13,002,420 in pioneering a system of receiving hospitals for treatment of early and incipient mental illness, and on its three state schools for the mentally deficient.

Despite this outlay, Dr. Porterfield said, facilities still are behind the demands resulting from a rapidly growing population.

He gave this breakdown of capital expenditures:

Apple Creek, $9,433,010; Athens $3,086,824; Cambridge, $808,537; Cleveland, $2,875,145; Columbus, $1,924,947; Dayton, $2,025,630; Hawthornden, $6,295,518; Lima, $2,918,667; Longview $5,036,909; Massilon, $1,678,510; Mount Vernon, $3,034,193; Tiffin, $2,893,850; Toledo, $4,021,860.

WEST UNION, Ohio (AP)—Donald Burns, 26, of Peebles was held to the grand jury after he pleaded guilty yesterday to manslaughter in the death of Earl Barney, 48.

Burns first said Barney had jumped from a moving car but later admitted he struck him after an argument.

His guilty plea was entered in the court of Magistrate W. E. Kincaid. Bond was set at $5,000 and burns was released.

Legislature Must Rule on Revenue From Truck Levy

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Permit fees from trucks who pay to use Ohio highways have totaled about $350,000, but the state can't spend the money yet

Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill ruled yesterday the $350,000 must remain in the state treasury until the next General Assembly acts. He said the last Legislature failed to say how permit fee money should be spent.

The fees are collected from all trucks with more than two axles, and are in addition to the new axle tax on trucks. Axle tax revenues are marked for Ohio's half billion dollar road construction program.

So far Ohio has collected $2 each from about 175,000 big trucks for the permit fees.

Water Show Scheduled

Galionite Plans Unusual Entertainment for Area

GALION—"I expect travel is my hobby," Joseph A Urban explained as he looked over his new swimming pool, east of Galion, which is equipped to bring a new entertainment to this area

The pool is constructed with a 32-foot diving tower with dimensions built to A A U specifications which also meet Olympic measurements.

The water show which Urban is offering to the public free this Saturday night will be the first of its kind in this area

It would be no surprise to the people who know Urban that travel is his hobby It is reflected in his business While he has not been traveling so extensively recently he is trying to bring many traveling Americans to his doorstep.

URBAN OPERATES THE Swiss Village Motel east of Galion on U S Route 30-S and State Route 61 It is a little different than many motels, because Urban being a native of Switzerland, has done it with Swiss taste.

The motel is not the only reflection of travel in his business, because Urban is the originator of aluminum awnings for house trailers, another phase of travel, and makes these at Urban Industries The business is now located in a newlyconstructed building at 224 Riblet St , Galion

'I want to plan my business so I can travel in the winter' Urban said this week He plans to go abroad in September to join his daughter, Arlene who flew to Europe on July 10 and then will return to Galion together I would like to spend some time on the Riviera," Urban commented

The new swimming pool where Urban is inviting the public to see The Helldivers of Cleveland and a water ballet Saturday at 7 30 p m will be floodlighted from the tower of the diving platform and a PA system will be used.

URBAN IS RESERVING seats or members of the Rotary, Kiwanis, Lions Club and Business and Professional Womens' Club of Galion Members of these clubs in Mansfied, Bucyrus and Marion may take advantage of the free offer Urban said if they will telephone him for reservations He is installing bleachers for the show

'I am planning to have other shows later this year," Urban remarked 'and next year I want to bring swimming and diving teams here possibly some of the Army and Navy teams for demonstration"

The swimming pool lies to the east of Urban's Swiss Village Motel It is adjoining an artificial lake which covers three acres The pool, lake and motel are on a 17-acre parcel of land which Urban began to develop in 1947 The land about the lake and motel is landscaped with white pine spruce and red pine trees which is where the Swiss taste is noticed Urban planted 3 000 trees

The swimming pool holds one and a quarter million gallons of water Urban pointed out This is five times as much as the municipal pool in Galion The diving area of the pool is 13 to 14 feet deep and the three boards of the diving tower are one meter three meters and five meters with 10 meters in the diving platform These are Olympic measurements Urban explains The pool is fed by well water The pool has sloping walls and is shaped like a tear-drop Urban said that he wanted something different when he planned the pool

"IT'S NOT JUST MONEY I used to build the pool but it's got sweat busted fingers and what-not in it" Urban said as he was putting finishing touches on the diving platform

A novel feature about the main motel building at his Swiss Village is the long deck in the middle of the second story of the building Half of the deck is open for sunning and the other half is canopied the two halves being divided with glass windows and door Blue and white paint is used on all of the buildings and awnings

"When I came to this country 30 years ago, I had a quarter in my pocket when I arrived in Chicago," Urban said

Even then his first occupation had a travel flavor He was head bus boy and chief bus boy in a hotel Later he became tourist and travel agent with steamship lines, planning as well as going on cruises around the world He has been in Egypt the Far East Africa practically all over the globe He was working for the American Express Co in Switzerland before he came to this country at the age of 20 years.

His early background had to do with travel, however because his father was in the hotel business and had located at different times in Egypt Germany Portugal Switzerland, Austria, France and England

Vast New Field Opens Up

First Labrador Iron Ore Ready To Start for Mills

SEPT ILES, Quebec (AP)—The first iron ore from the frozen wastes of Labrador will be loaded at this Gulf of St. Lawrence port tomorrow for shipment to far-off steel mills in Canada and the United States.

It will be an important milestone in Canada's greatest mining development — a gigantic undertaking in the wild, unfriendly north which so far has cost more than 20 lives and 250 million dollars.

The premiers of Newfoundland and Quebec will take part in official ceremonies opening the new ore docks—part of a 20-million-dollar rail and ship terminal built by the Iron Ore Co. of Canada.

Railway Built

To set the stage for tomorrow's event, the company pushed a 357-mile railway through rock, sand and muskeg to the barren little mining town of Knob Lake on the Quebec-Labrador frontier. North of Knob Lake entire tops of mountains were lopped off to uncover millions of tons of ore.

Knob Lake walks on rusty feet. The ground runs red with iron when it rains; in winter the snow is tinted pink. Red rust even stains the clothes of romping children.

Into this drowsy land, disturbed only by Indian huntsmen and an occasional gold prospector, Jules Timmins of Hollinger gold mines started exploring for iron ore in 1942. Today he's president of the iron ore company.

Right now two mines are being worked; massive shovels scoop away topsoil and then remove the ore at the rate of 700 cubic yards an hour. The ore is crushed and carried by conveyor belt to waiting trains. Work continues around the clock, the hoarse roar of shovels and trucks blending with the snarl of diesel locomotives. Eventually 20 million tons of ore will be hauled off to Seven Islands every year.

Huge Deposits

Geologists say there's enough iron in the hills for 100 years of mining.

Building the railway took 44 months, 20 lives and the sweat of 20,000 men toiling day and night. Supplies were flown in by the greatest industrial airlift of all time. At the peak of construction 6,000 men battled to get food and equipment over rough tote roads to working gangs in forward positions.

There were times when the roadbed slithered into the marsh.

Tunnels were bored through solid rock. A rockslide at the opening of one tunnel caught a caboose and hurtled it over a cliff.

In the mountains just north of Sept Iles (Seven Islands) ledges had to be cut — sometimes in treacherous sand and oozing mud, sometimes along the sheer face of rocky cliffs towering hundreds of feet above the fast-flowing Moisie River.

Engineers threw a 780-foot steel bridge across the yawning river chasm, got a cable across by helicopter and ferried the gangs across by cable car. For the next 10 miles, men had to hang precariously by ropes over cliffs while they drilled holes for blasting.

Road Bed Disappears

Farther north, other gangs working in sub - zero weather built a roadbed straight across frozen muskeg country. When spring came, whole sections disappeared in the swampy ground.

At 7 o'clock in the evening last June 21, Jack Campbell of London, Ont., a tall, rugged Irishman just turned 50, gave a blast on the hooter and eased two powerful diesel locomotives out of the yards at Knob Lake. Twenty-six hours and 357 miles later he nosed the 67-car train to a halt in Sept Iles with the first cargo of iron ore ever brought out of the Labrador-Ungava region.

The Quebec, North Shore and Labrador railway — the line old-timers said would never be built—was in operation.

In the Service

Army Pvt. Marvin D. Nelson, whose wife, Shirley, resides in Delaware, is now serving at Camp Yokohama, Japan, with the 56th Amphibious Tank and Tractor Battalion. The 20-year-old soldier is a tractor driver in Company C of the battalion which is training as part of the security force for the Japanese Isles. The son of Mr. and Mrs. James Nelson of near Sunbury, he entered the Army last October and was formerly stationed at Camp Del Mar, Calif.

Cleared in Wife's Death

BALTIMORE (AP) — George W. Eller, 49, of Parkville, Md., was cleared yesterday of any guilt in the death of his wife after taking the first official lie-detector test given in Baltimore County.

His wife, 37-year-old Mrs. Myrtle Eller, was killed early Wednesday morning. Eller told police he mistook her for a prowler at their home on the northeast edge of Baltimore.

SUES RAILROAD

CINCINNATI (AP)—Edgar Greenslate of Portsmouth, Ohio, asked the United States District Court yesterday for a $100,000 judgment from the Norfolk and Western Railway Co. He said his lungs were injured from silicosis. He said he had worked in the railroad's sand-blast building at Portsmouth.

Morrow Award Winners Slated In Competition

MOUNT GILEAD—Jane Crunkilton of near Bellville and David Burggraf of near Cardington, winners of the Morrow Electric Co-Op scholarship awarded last spring, will compete for $500 statewide scholarships at the state co-op organization meeting in Columbus Aug. 9.

At the annual statewide meeting at the Neil House, the area scholarship winners will be scored against 12 other scholarship winners from other electric co-ops in the state. Winners of the $500 awards will be announced at the banquet on Aug. 9.

Jane Crunkilton and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Crunkilton, and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Burggraf, parents of David, will be guests at the banquet of the Morrow Electric Co-op. David, who is employed for the summer vacation at College, Alaska, will not be present in person for the judging.

The statewide organization of co-ops is headed by Paul DeBolt of Fredericktown, who is also president of the Morrow Electric Co-op. The Morrow co-op will be represented at the meeting by Donald Mitchell, voting delegate, and Merrill Cowgill, alternate.

Boston Wallops Cleveland 10-2, Yanks Belt Chicago

Feller Handed Second Loss; Nats Begin Series Tonight

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland's Indians seek to recover their composure tonight in the opener of a four-game series against the Washington Nats.

The Tribe suffered a 10-2 humiliation yesterday at the hands of the Boston Red Sox, who knocked the American League leaders back to only a game and a half advantage over the New York Yankees.

The relentless New Yorkers, who moved into the league's second spot at the beginning of the month, capitalized on the Indians' misfortunes by routing Chicago, 10-0.

Cleveland suffered one of its worst defeats of the season in the finale of a series the Tribe hoped would provide a comfortable cushion in the pennant race. The Indians won the first two games, 6-3 and 2-1.

Only one team previously had scored as many as 10 runs against the Tribe.

It was the Yankees, of course, who did it, when they clobbered the Indians 11-0 on June 25, and trounced them 11-9 the next night.

The Red Sox victory was their second this season over the Indians, who have won 15 over Boston and tied twice.

Righthander Bob Feller and four other Cleveland hurlers were pounded for 14 hits, while Boston's Jackie Jensen homered twice and singled once to drive in six runs. Ted Williams blasted a two-run homer, and Jim Piersall made four straight hits.

The Beantowners snapped Feller's seven-game winning streak and handed him his second loss in 10 starts.

The veteran righthander lasted less than two innings, during which Williams and Jensen homered on successive pitches and the Red Sox took a 5-0 lead.

Southpaw Leo Kiely registered his fifth victory against six defeats, and yielded only seven hits.

These included a triple in the fifth by Al Smith, who scored catcher Sam Dente, and an eighth-inning home run by Bob Avila.

Dave Hoskins went to the Indians' mound in the second, after Feller retired two men, and Jim Piersall singled. Billy Goodman doubled, Ted Williams filled the bases on an intentional walk, and Jensen's single produced two runs.

Hoskins retired the side and was relieved by Ray Narleski, who yielded only one hit in three shutout innings.

Then, with Hal Newhouser pitching in the sixth, Piersall singled, Williams walked, and Jensen smacked his 16th homer over the left field fence.

Piersall singled a run home in the seventh, and doubles by Ted Lepcio and Billy Consolo gave Boston their last run in the eighth.

Yesterday's STARS

Pitching—Vic Raschi, St. Louis Cardinals, allowed only three hits in beating the New York Giants 8-0.

Batting—Jackie Jensen, Boston Red Sox, hit two home runs and a single, driving in six runs as the Red Sox won their second game from Cleveland this season, 10-2.

Redlegs Clip Phillies on Four-Hitter

NEW YORK (AP)—Cincinnati pitchers are doing double duty these days.

Not only must they be accurate on the mound, they must be sluggers at the plate.

Corky Valentine, rookie righthander, pitched brilliant four-hit ball against the Philadelphia Phillies last night, blanking the Phils 3-0. He also slugged two doubles and a single in four trips to the plate.

The last previous victory was won by pitcher Howie Judson's two-run single.

So Fred Baczewski, tagged to go against the New York Giants tonight in the first of a four-game series, may have to supply some batting power if the Reds are to gain their first Polo Grounds triumph of the season.

Valentine, an Ohio product from Troy, permitted only two Phillies to get to second in posting his third shutout of the season. He now holds an 8-9 record.

The 24-year-old righthander was calm. Earl Torgeson and Smoky Burgess singled in the first frame but that danger was quickly passed. The only other hits off Valentine were Del Ennis' single in the seventh and Richie Ashburn's bunt in the eighth.

Valentine got more bases than the whole Philadelphia nine and he scored the first two Red runs.

He led off the third with a double and came riding home on Roy McMillan's two-bagger. In the fifth, he again took two bases from Murray Dickson, the Phillie starter and loser. Corky scored on Gus Bell's single. It was Gus' 80th run batted in this season.

Kluszewski's single, Jim Greengrass' walk and Wally Post's single produced an insurance run in the ninth inning.

The Red batters clubbed Dickson for 10 hits in eight innings. The ninth inning singles came off Steve Ridzik.

Marion Industries Girls Team Seeks Clincher for Title

Marion Industries seeks to wrap up the Marion Girls Softball League championship next Wednesday with its sixth straight loop victory.

Arro is the Industries' opponent at the Fairfield grounds. In the other league game that night, Telephone Co. will battle Shovel at the Shovel field.

The Industries squad moved closer to the title by downing Shovel 11-4 last Wednesday. Sally Murray and Virginia Eby were the batters for the winners while Elkins and Hawk toiled for the losers. Poor fielding and listless play helped Industries along to the victory.

Industries a week previously had trampled Telephone Co. 27-4 behind Murray and Eby. Craven and Kneisley worked for the losers. Last Tuesday, Arro downed Telephone Co. 11-5. Craven worked a fine game for the losers but was hampered by listless fielding and nine errors on the part of Telephone Co. in the first four innings, homers for their respective squads.

Three Newcomers Cut From Brownies' Roster

HIRAM, Ohio (AP)—Three rookies were cut from the Cleveland Browns squad yesterday as the pro grid team continued to trim its ranks for the approaching season. The three were halfbacks Chuck Fisher of Evansville College and Mike Maccioli of Purdue and fullback Paul Anders from Penn State. The first rookie cut was Ed Madgiak, a fullback from William and Mary, who got the news Tuesday.

Charles To Get Third Chance At Ring Crown

NEW YORK (AP)—Ezzard Charles may never go down as the greatest heavyweight champion, but he will have his own little niche in the history of the ring.

The lithe Cincinnati Negro will be the first ex-champion ever to get three cracks at winning back his title. He lost the crown to Jersey Joe Walcott, dropped a return decision to Jersey Joe, then lost another decision to Rocky Marciano.

Now he's going to get a second crack at Marciano, here on either Sept. 15 or Sept. 21. Today, even before the battlers have signed the final contracts, an early line has been quoted. The Rock from Brockton, Mass., is a 1-3 favorite and is even money to stop the 33-year-old Charles.

"I hope to do a little better than last time," said Marciano. "I was a little disappointed that I didn't drop him at least once."

It was a bloody battle on both sides and before the agreement for the return could be made yesterday, Marciano had to have his eye examined. Charles worked on it to the extent that 10 stitches were required, but physicians said it was healed completely.

So Jim Norris, head man of the International Boxing Club, now merely has to iron out the details. Besides deciding where and when to hold the battle, he is mulling over the television problem. The chances are he will have a closed theater TV circuit which proved so profitable in the first fight.

The financial arrangements will be the same as their bout six weeks ago with Marciano getting 40 per cent of all money brought in and Charles 20 per cent.

Marciano plans to start training today at Grossinger, N. Y., while Charles probably will start workouts after he signs the papers next Tuesday.

Between 1934 and 1953 the number of annual admissions to hospitals in the United States rose from 57 per 1,000 population to 126.

Gallimore Clips Morral Squad On Four-Hitter

Marion's Fraternal Order of Police nine blanked Morral 4-0 behind the five-hit hurling of Dave Gallimore in a County Teen League contest at Lincoln Park last night.

Gallimore struck out four and walked none in posting the victory.

Craycraft of the losers was almost as tough on the mound for Morral, giving up only four hits as he held Marion scoreless for the first three frames.

The locals reached him for a run in the fourth, enough for the win, and added three in the sixth on two hits for insurance.

Craycraft struck out five and walked one.

Tex Burns paced the Marion hitting attack with a pair of hits while Marlo Barrett and Eddie White got the others. Hensel had two hits for Morral, with Craycraft, Neal and Rice contributing one each.

Casey 64 Today

New York Hitting Best Pace Since Stengel Took Controls

By BEN PHLEGAR
Associated Press Sportswriter

Today is Casey Stengel's 64th birthday but he's going to have to wait awhile longer for a present from his athletes.

The New York Yankees didn't quite make it to first place in time for the celebration. In fact, they haven't made it to first place any time this season although they've won more of their first 100 games than any Yankee club Casey has managed.

When they whipped Chicago 10-0 yesterday, they ran their record for the year to 67 won and 33 lost. None of the past five New York pennant winners has done as well.

New York trails Cleveland by a game and a half and the day-to-day question is how long can the two clubs keep up their sizzling pace.

During the last seven weeks the Yanks have won 37 out of 49, a .755 clip. The Indians captured 35 of 49 over the same period for a .714 mark, exactly equalling the best winning percentage ever compiled by an American League champion.

Who'll crack first? The man with the answer wins the jackpot. In 10 consecutive games with Cleveland and third place Chicago the Yankees won seven times. But two of the losses were to the Indians.

Yesterday, however, it was no contest. While the Yankees were routing the wishful White Sox, Cleveland collapsed before a Boston onslaught, bowing, 10-2. The Red Sox had lost 15 out of 16 to Cleveland before turning on the league leaders.

Of the nine games played yesterday, four ended in shutouts. Whitey Ford held the White Sox to four hits in the Yankee victory. Vic Raschi, the ex-Yankee star now working for the St. Louis Cardinals, beat the New York Giants, 8-0 on three hits. Corky Valentine of Cincinnati pitched a four-hitter against Philadelphia, winning 3-0 and Chuck Stobbs of Washington checked Baltimore on five hits in a 6-0 triumph.

In other action Chicago defeated Brooklyn 6-5; Milwaukee won its seventh straight, 5-3 over Pittsburgh in 10 innings and Detroit took a doubleheader from Philadelphia 4-2 and 7-3.

Raschi was in complete control of the league-leading Giants. He gave up two bases on balls and struck out a pair. The only New York hits were singles by Willie Mays, Bobby Hoffman and Don Mueller. Ray Jablonski's bases-loaded double in the fifth was the big blow for St. Louis.

Pinch hitters flopped for Brooklyn as the Dodgers lost a chance to shave their two-game deficit. Manager Walt Alston used five and not one got the ball out of the infield. The final failure was George Shuba who grounded to first with the bases loaded and two out in the ninth. Hank Sauer and Ernie Banks homered for the Cubs.

The Braves had a close call in Pittsburgh. They tied the game in the ninth on three straight singles and added two more, including Hank Aaron's 12th home run, in the 10th.

Detroit came from behind in both victories over the faltering Athletics. In the first game a two-run triple by Frank Bolling followed by a squeeze bunt by George Zuverink put the Tigers in front in the fifth inning. In the second game the A's jumped ahead 3-0 but were caught and passed in the third inning when Bob Nieman hit a grand slam home run.

A pitching experiment failed for the Baltimore Orioles. Bonus rookie Bill O'Dell was given his first starting assignment but couldn't get past the first inning. Two doubles, a single and a walk brought Lou Kretlow to the rescue but it was too late since Stobbs was in shutout form for Washington.

Dates Overlap

Ohio's Sports Fans Facing Varied Schedule in August

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — That's August, peeking around the weekend, and the red hot month offers a red - hot sports program for Ohioans.

The national spotlight will shine on the Buckeye arena all month as tennis, golf, football, rifle, pistol, shotgun, Soap Box Derby and baseball gems are offered.

There's quite a batch of overlapping of dates, so you'll have to move fast if you want to spend a month's vacation viewing all Ohio has to offer.

Here's a fast rundown on the August agenda:

Aug. 3 - 7: The first National Junior Tennis Tournament sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce. It's scheduled at the Snyder Park courts in Springfield, and its definite aim is to unearth future Davis Cup material. Some 150 boys from 40 states will compete, the winners getting a month's on-tour instruction from pro Jack Kramer, plus a $500 scholarship.

Aug. 9-12: The National Left-handers Golf Championship at Dayton's Miami Valley Club. Jack Walters of Tacoma, Wash., is current champ of the guys who swing from the other side.

Aug 10-13: Ohio High School Football Coaches' Assn. clinic, climaxed by the North-South all-senior all-star game-night of Friday, the 13th-at Springfeild. Jim Robinson of Canton Lehman coaches the North, Bill Kidd of New Piladelphia the South.

Aug. 14: Paul Brown takes his Cleveland football pro's to his old home town, Massillon, for their annual intra-squad game. Some 10,000 are slated to watch the fray, with profits going to the Massillon Booster Club.

Aug. 15: The annual Soap Box Derby at Akron's Derby Downs. About 150 newspaper - sponsored kids will compete for the college scholarships.

Aug. 15-Sept. 5: National rifle matches 30 - caliber, 22 - caliber and pistol at Camp Perry. About 2,000 entrants expected, including best of service marksmen.

Aug. 16: Celebrities Golf Tournament at Columbus Country Club, with profits going to National Caddy Tournament scholarship fund. Stars of stage, screen, radio, television and sports world will be on hand, along with thousands of fans.

Aug. 17 - 21:. National Caddy championship tournament at Ohio State University course, Columbus, with victors getting a free ride through college.

Aug. 20 - 28: Grand American Trapshoot at Vandalia, with guys and gals from all the states, Canada, Alaska, Cuba and the Canal Zone splitting up some $250,000.

Aug. 23 - 25: Ohio Open Golf Championship at Walnut Grove course in Dayton, with Dick Shoemaker of Cleveland defending his 1953 laurels.

If you are a baseball fan, and have a few days to spend, your best bet would be in Cleveland next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, Aug. 3-5. Cleveland meets New York Tuesday and Wednesdy night, and Thursday afternoon, and that Indian-Yankee series might decide the American League pennant.

The state wildlife division says the fishing should be good all through August, so it looks like a pretty fair all-around month.

Shelby Defeats St. Marys 18-1 For Area Title

Shelby clobbered St. Marys, O., 18-1 last night at Robert Scott Field to nail down the title in the district 3 Little League tournament. The win sends the Shelby nine into regional play at Urbana on Aug. 4.

Shelby, winner of the eastern district playoffs, ran rough shod over the western division winners. The victors exploded for 13 runs in the first inning. Ten base hits were sandwiched around one base on balls and four errors by the hapless St. Marys nine. Big blow of the uprising was a two-run blast over the left centerfield fence by Russ Pfahler. He also banged out a run scoring double on his second trip to the plate. The Shelby team batted around twice in the inning.

Shelby continued its spree in the second inning by adding a run on double, a wild pitch and a fielder's choice. Three more runs came in the fourth through two hits a free pass and a pair of errors. The final Shelby run came in the fifth on a walk a single and two errors. The St. Marys team was charged with seven misplays.

St. Marys' only tally came in the third frame after Jim Stout, Shelby hurler, had been nicked for the first hit. The single and three walks accounted for the run. Stout allowed a three-base hit in the fourth, the only other given up by the young hurler.

Rogers Wins Nod In Armory Match

Nature Boy Buddy Rogers won the verdict in the main event of last night's wrestling match at the armory. He defeated Man Mountain Dean, who was a substitute for George Menagoff.

The first fall went to Rogers after 11 minutes when he connected with drop kicks after taking a brutal beating from Dean. The second fall ended when the Marion Commission disqualified Dean for using tape on Rogers' eyes.

Steve Novak and Frenchy Roy went to a draw in their 60-minute semi-final bout. Novak won the first fall with a flying tackle and jackknife after 27 minutes and Roy came back to cop the second fall with a full nelson before the time limit was reached.

Bull Montana was disqualified for hitting the referee in the 30-minute opener and the bout was given to Mike Ryan.

Matthews and Britain's Cockell Battle Tonight

SEATTLE (AP)—Harry (Kid) Matthews is taller and has a greater reach than Don Cockell of London, but he'll be topped in all other statistics by the British champion in their 10-round heavyweight fight tonight.

Matthews, who is 5 feet 11, will weigh about 180. His reach is 74½ inches, compared to 71 inches for the 5-foot-9½ Cockell. In chest, neck, bicepts and other measurements Cockell has the edge.

He even has the edge in the Ring Magazine ratings which list him in third place and Matthews in seventh.

Local 750, Erie and UAW 1039 Post Industrial League Wins

Local 750, Erie No. 1 and UAW 1039 turned in softball victories in Industrial League No. 1 action last night at Garfield Park.

Local 750 edged Marion Engineer Depot 11-10, Erie No. 1 trimmed Marion Power Shovel 6-1, and UAW 1039 nudged Marion Metal 9-7. The win kept the Erie squad undefeated in loop play.

A total of 28 base hits were knocked out in the Local 750-Marion Engineer Depot fray with Sonny Taylor receiving credit for the win on a 15-hitter. Norris, the loser, gave up 13. The winners came from behind with four runs in the fourth and two in the fifth for a 10-6 bulge but then were forced to score once in the top of the seventh for the win. The losers scored twice in the sixth to slice the winners' margin and a two-run rally in the bottom of the seventh fell short. Local 750 scored four times in the first but Marion Engineer Depot came back with four in the second and two in the third before the winners went ahead for good. Taylor homered for the winners while Wilson, Jones, Paulus and Sloat delivered timely hits.

Kunkle twirled a two-hitter in out-hurling Wilcox in the Erie win over Shovel. Wilcox gave up six hits. The Railroaders clinched the contest in the third frame with five runs. The Shovel nine had taken an early lead with one run in the first round. Erie concluded its scoring with a run in the fifth. Erie's big third came about on a pair of home runs, by F. Gruber and C. Gruber, another hit and two walks. Roscoe Gruber collected both of Shovel's two hits. Erie's Gruber boys both had two hits while Paul Rice and Bob Forsyth got the others.

Seven runs in the opening frame helped UAW 1039 defeat Marion Metal. The winners hung on the rest of the way as the Metal nine tried unsuccessfully to battle back. The losers cut the winners' budge to 7-4 with a run in the first, two in the second and one in the third before UAW came back with a run in the fifth and another in the seventh. Marion Metal fell short with three runs in the bottom of the seventh. Caldwell hurled UAW to the win on a nine-hitter. Remano, the loser, gave up 10 hits. Estes and Davidson each had three hits for the winners while Davis clouted a homer and triple for the losing Metal squad.

Unknown Tops Field in Event At Kansas City

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Youthful Mike Krak, virtually unknown on the professional golf circuit, held a one-stroke lead today going into the second round of the $20,000 Kansas City Open Tournament.

Krak of Louisville Ky., had a hole-in-one to his credit—the first of his career. He shot an 8-under-par 65.

Just a stroke off pace with 66s were Ed Oliver, of Lemont, Ill., Earl Stewart Jr., Dallas, and Fred Hawkins, El Paso, Tex.

Oliver won the event last year, setting a tournament record of 19 under par for the 72 holes.

Grouped at 67 were such players as Henry Ransom, Pontiac, Mich., Doug Ford, Kiamesha Lake, N. Y., Jim Turnesa, Briarcliff, N. Y., and Jack Fleck, Davenport, Iowa.

Dick Lundahl, of Logan, Utah, Herman Scharlau, Boca Raton, Fla., Marty Furgol, Lemont, Ill., and Lloyd Mangrum, Niles, Ill., each had first round 68s.

Jones Notches Fourth Straight Richwood Win

J. L. Jones copped his fourth straight feature win last night at the Richwood Speedway. He led a field of 21 starters across the finish line.

Ralph Ray of Belle Center followed Jones across the finish and Jim Heelot of Ostrander took third. Richwood's Jim Hamilton was fourth.

Jones took the lead on the 23rd lap when he passed Ray. The two were neck and neck until the finish. The event was restarted twice. Clyde Looney of Ostrander spun out on the south turn and before the field could be restarted, Don Stevens of Marion and Dick Mayberry spun out. Mayberry skidded into the infield. On the restart, Chet Howard of Mount Gilead rolled over the north turn but was uninjured.

Truman Radebaugh of Delaware took the first race with Don Teets of Marysville and Ed Fridley of Marion coming in two-three. Jim Hamilton, Looney and Joe Erwin of Richwood finished in that order in the second event. Stevens and Fred Chandler of Marysville spun out and ended in the infield.

Ray came home first in the third race with Howard taking second and Chet Johnson of Radnor finishing third. Erwin led the field in the winners' handicap. Johnson took a second-place finish and Jim Hamilton came in third. Radebaugh was forced out of action when he became tangled up on a turn.

Bob Brown of Delaware won the first consolation with Stevens second and Mayberry third. Don Williamson of LaRue lost control and was hit by Chandler. The jolt knocked Williamson into the guard rail. Mayberry, Stevens and Bob Fridley of Marion became tangled on the north turn and Bob Harris of Bucyrus, in an attempt to miss the tangle, lost control and crashed into a light pole.

J. L. Jones, Joe Wallace and Walt Hamilton finished in that order in the second consolation.

They say it's light and dry as the smoothest beer, yet with that extra flavor—that "heart" which only a fine ale can provide! They call it the "light-hearted" ale.

Tonight, why not try it? See whether you are one of those who find Carling's Red Cap Ale tastes even better than beer!

Lesser Nipped By Toledo Girl In Golf Action

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—The semifinals lineup today in the 5th Women's Western Amateur Golf Tournament included a member and an alternate of the Curtis Cup Team, but teammate Pat Lesser of Seattle didn't make it.

The 20-year-old Washington girl, who set a qualifying record of 72 for the tourney, was beaten yesterday by 19-year-old Barbara McIntire of Toledo, Ohio, 1 up.

Pat had defeated Barbara in three previous meetings — in the Western Junior, National Intercollegiate and Palm Beach tourney competition. She won three of the first four holes yesterday but the Toledo district champion plugged away and won when the Washington girl missed a string of greens.

Beverly Gammon, a 1953 University of Minnesota graduate, upset Jane Nelson of Indianapolis, 1953 Western Amateur runnerup, in 22 holes and will play Miss McIntire today.

The other semifinals opponents are Claire Doran of Cleveland, the defending champion, and Mrs. Mae Murray Jones, another tourney veteran from Rutland, Vt.

Miss Doran, Curtis Cup team member, had a tight contest before winning a 1-up victory over Mary Agnes Wall of Menominee, Mich.

Marion Team Defeated 6-5 in Teen Struggle

Green Camp came up with four runs in the top of the seventh to nip Marion's Indians 6-5 in a Marion County Teen League tilt at Lincoln Park last night.

Louie Finch of the winners then retired the Marion side in order in the last of the final frame to preserve the win.

Only one hit figured in the game winning rally. By Finch, it came after Green Camp had put men on base on a pair of walks, hit batsmen, fielder's choice and an error.

The locals had taken an early lead with four runs in the opening frame and one in the fourth. Green Camp had scored once in the fourth and once in the fifth prior to the seventh.

Finch struck out six while walking seven and hitting a batsmen. He allowed four hits. Larry Corbin went the distance for Marion, allowing only three safeties. He fanned eight while walking five.

Finch gave up two of the Marion hits in the Indians' big first frame in addition to walking two and hitting a batter. One of the hits was Jed Middleton's triple.

Finch, Schultz and Dilsaver got the Green Camp hits. Jed Middleton connected for three of Marion's four hits while Howard Gruber got the other.

Toledo Crew Belts Little Indians 8-2

By The Associated Press

Two nifty pitching performances enabled the St. Paul Saints to overcome the Charleston jinx and halt their skid down the American Association standings last night.

With Bob Darnell yielding only four hits in the opener and Don Bessent scattering seven in the nightcap, the Saints swept a doubleheader from the Senators, 7-1 and 1-0.

Until last night cellar-dwelling Charleston had taken nine straight decisions from St. Paul.

Toledo's Sox unleashed a barrage of three home runs to dump league-leading Indianapolis, 8-2.

Another flurry of extra base hits propelled the Minneapolis Millers to a 10-2 victory over Columbus.

Rip Coleman checked Louisville on three hits as the Kansas City Blues copped the first game of a doubleheader, 2-1. The second game was called with the score tied 15-15 after 10 innings.

Stanky Refuses To Count Cards Out of NL Race

NEW YORK (AP)—They're calling him the "new" Eddie Stanky but the only thing new about the manager of the St Louis Cardinals is the snazzy pair of sports shoes he bought in a midtown store yesterday.

He's still the same scrappy little guy with that tremendous zest for victory. He still has that same devotion to his ideas on running a ball club and if he has mellowed in any way it is not noticeable at first glance.

Typical of his nature, Stanky still thinks his Cardinals have an outside chance of catching the leaders. St Louis' easy victory over New York and Chicago's triumph over Brooklyn yesterday might have influenced his thinking but Eddie stubbornly insists the National League race is still wide open.

"I admit things don't look too good for us right now," Stanky conceded, "but we're not out of it by a long shot. Remember, there are still two months to go. Let us have one good long winning streak and the entire pennant picture might change. That goes for any one of six clubs. We haven't had a real winning streak yet. Maybe we're due for one."

The Cardinals are finding it a tough task to sneak into the first division but they've been playing good ball of late.

Charge Against Chief False, Lima Man Says

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—It was a "blinding sinus headache" that confused Israel Rachlin. The 30-year-old night club operator said he was mixed up when he accused Police Chief Kermit L. Westbay of accepting bribes after a raid yesterday on Rachlin's South Side liquor spot.

Rachlin blamed his headache for statements he made accusing the chief of taking "payoffs" to "protect" operations at the club.

He cleared the chief after questioning last night by City Council's investigating committee. Committee chairman Raymond Kail said no action would be taken against the chief who termed the charge "ridiculous."

Rachlin was charged with running a disorderly house. He will be arraigned today.

Radio and Television

By JOHN CROSBY

Egypt in Cinemascope

We television critics are a badly spoiled bunch. You flip a switch in your own living room and the picture swims into view. You watch it and you've done a night's work. Now the movie critic crowd is different. They must kiss their wives, leave their homes, go to a theater and there, surrounded by strangers, they watch a picture that may or may not be any better than the ones we watch at home.

J. CROSBY

The big difference, of course, is that they're not home. They have to undergo all sorts of hardships to get to their place of work. It takes stamina to be a movie critic. I've always admired this quality in movie critics and the other day, just to see how the other half lives, I thought I'd try it.

There was an interesting picture opening here in Cairo so I came. It does seem like a long ways to come see a movie, though. The movie crowd will have to make things a little more accessible to the customers or they'll never lick television.

THE MOVIE IN QUESTION was "The Valley of the Kings," a sumptuous Metro Goldwyn Mayer production which was shot here in Egypt. And there in lies a tale. Egypt has been lying here under a benevolent—though sometimes blistering sun for some 7,000 years now and Hollywood, during all that time, ignored it.

Then one day somebody in Hollywood — Cheops Pincus is the name I've arbitrarily decided to give him—was leafing through some old maps and discovered Egypt. Since then Egypt has been crawling with movie stars. A tourist can hardly get to the Pyramids without brushing aside Robert Taylor or Gregory Ratoff — distributing, of course, a little Bakshees to each.

During the last year or so, besides "Valley of the Kings," Warner Brothers has shot "Land of the Pharaohs." Twentieth Century Fox "The Egyptian," and Gregory Ratoff a picture called "Abdullah the Great" here.

At this very moment, Cecil B. DeMille's henchmen are constructing settings for a re-shoot of "The Ten Commandments" somewhere out in the desert. The Pyramids, I guess, aren't big enough for DeMille. He'll probably build something much bigger and, after the research experts do their work, much more Egyptian.

MGM, THOUGH, has stolen a march by releasing its picture ahead of the competition, the first major picture shot in Egypt to be released here. It was quite a show. Outside the theater MGM constructed a Pharaonic arch, adorned with hieroglyphics shouting the praises of Eleanor Parker, with two terribly Old Kingdom statues of a man and woman.

The statues looked 4,000 years old but were actually constructed at the behest of those great patrons of art, the Warner Brothers, for their picture "Land of the Pharaohs." Then the MGM boys here mischievously bought these massive objects d'art and are now using them to plug a competing picture. Aaah, the wily Near East!

The Egyptians are pretty good movie-geers but they have their own strong tastes. They love spectacles with a strong story line—"Scaramouche," "Quo Vadis," "Ivanhoe"—that sort of thing. The sort of thing they don't like is "Philadelphia Story" which they considered just a lot of talk. (Gads, I wish I'd been here for that one! I'd love to have watched a theaterful of Arabs staring at Katherine Hepburn, bandying Philip Barry's dialogue with Cary Grant, and wondering just what the hell they were getting so excited about.)

AN APPRECIATIVE audience, the Egyptians. They howled with laughter at even the smallest witticism in "The Valley of the Kings," and also at some spots where they were not supposed to laugh at all. From time to time, during the picture, Robert Taylor would shout something in Arabic in what my Egyptian friends confided to me was an atrocious accent. The house would break up. Taylor could easily be the Jackie Gleason of Egypt. He could just walk out on a stage here and say "Salam Alcikom" (Peace be with you) and he'd have 'em rolling in the aisles.

One thing the Egyptians don't care about much—I pass this on to Dore Schary, Cecil B. DeMille, the Brothers Warner and even Gregory Ratoff—is kissing scenes. When Miss Parker and Mr. Taylor finally fell into one another's arms, the crowd stirred restively, muttering "Bass, bass" (Enough! Enough!)—and I was with them all the way.

"The Valley of the Kings"—whose finer points I entrust to the movie critics—is another example of a trend in movie-making toward sheer scenery. If I were a movie star, it would alarm me. The beauty of the English (and Irish) countryside in "Knights of the Round Table," the splendor of Rome in "Three Coins in the Fountain," the grandeur of Egypt in this picture no actor can compete with them. Eventually they may just eliminate the actors entirely and show the Pyramids.

N.Y. Stock Quotations

NEW YORK (AP) — Trading in steels and a handful of other issues at substantially higher prices today dominated the stock market into the early afternoon.

Youngstown Sheet & Tube shot ahead nearly 7 points and Bethlehem Steel was up around 3 on confirmation that the companies were talking about a merger.

The market as a whole was higher with buying attention riveted on steels, aircrafts and special situations. Also ahead were the motors, rubbers, coppers, golds, railroads and utilities.

Most price changes either way were fractional with some stocks pushed up between 1 and 2 points and the spectacular group soaring on upward from there.

Trading was quite acuve and hit a pace better than the 2,710,000 shares traded yesterday.

Among higher stocks were U.S Steel, Republic Steel, Republic Aviation, Boeing, Grumman, Lockheed, Philco, Western Union, Kennecott Copper, Allied Cemical, Raytheon, New York Central, and Standard Oil (NJ).

Senate Action, If Any, Not Likely To Stop McCarthy

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—The position Sen. McCarthy found himself in today—waiting while his fellow senators argued whether to censure him—was typical of the role forced on him in 1954. It's a new one for him.

Ever since 1950, when he first made headlines with his charges of Communists in government, he had moved fast, kept punching. He rolled with the counter-punches, slugged harder in return. Nothing kept him quiet.

For most of this year he has been forced into a role sometimes passive, sometimes defensive. It has been that way with him ever since the Eisenhower administration early this year struck back at him.

In the past he called his shots, getting attention when he wanted it with a statement or an attack. This year the shots have been called on him. Most of the attention given him in 1954 has not been of his choosing.

McCARTHY, a man of energy who thrived on action, has been slowed down. Whether or not anyone in the administration foresaw the result of the decision to hit back at him, the result was to crimp his style.

Sen. Flanders' effort may fail. The 73-year-old Vermont Republican wants the Senate to censure McCarthy. If it fails, McCarthy may take that as a vote of approval and come bounding back like his old self.

Although it was his own Republican party which had taken over, McCarthy began sticking needles into the Eisenhower administration early in 1953. He kept on sticking them in.

The decision to tell him "whoa" was made when the Army charged McCarthy and his Senate investigations subcommittee staff had sought special treatment for Pvt. G. David Schine and had threatened retaliation if they didn't get it. Schine was formerly on the staff.

WHEN McCARTHY counter-charged that top Army officials had been using Schine as a "hostage" to make McCarthy pull up on his search for Communists in the Army, the fat was in the fire. The Senate itself had to step in to investigate, and the subcommittee took on the job—with McCarthy temporarily sidelined as chairman.

Right there McCarthy was slowed down. McCarthy, glued to the hearings, was like a boxer with his hands tied behind his back.

His field had been narrowed. In long weeks of the hearings he had to concentrate on one subject: Trying to make himself and his staff look good and the Army bad.

He fought hard, he was nimble, and before the hearings ended the Army and the administration may have wished the whole thing had never been permitted to start. Maybe.

If the administration had planned, or hoped, to keep McCarthy off its back for most of the congressional session, it succeeded. For even when the hearings ended McCarthy did not resume his old role.

FIRST OF ALL, he went off for a rest of almost three weeks. Then he wanted, he said, to go after Communists in defense plants. All through the hearings he had complained they were delaying his search for Reds in those plants.

He made a brief stab at holding hearings on that subject and then dropped them, at least for the time being. He has probably been more quiet since the hearings ended than in any similar period since 1950.

For there was some unsettled business: What his own Senate subcommittee, which conducted the hearings, would say when it finished working on its report. It hasn't finished yet.

In the meantime, he lost his right-hand man, Roy M. Cohn, who resigned after it was reported a majority of the subcommittee—three Democrats and one Republican—were after the young New York attorney's scalp. Cohn had been chief counsel for McCarthy and, judging from what McCarthy said, invaluable.

Meanwhile, Flanders had been trying to cook up grief for McCarthy, first with an effort to get the Senate to take McCarthy's committee chairmanships away from him and, when that seemed ticketed for failure, to censure him.

But whether or not anyone likes or dislikes McCarthy, friends and foes will probably agree: He has never so far looked like a quitter when the going was rough. He'll probably bound back, censure or no censure, as soon as he sees an opening.

This Is One Eating Place Where The Waiters Really Listen When You Order

Over the years we have learned one thing for sure. When a customer is unhappy about his order you can almost always trace his irritation to a waiter who did not get the order back to our chef exactly as given him. Here we pride ourselves on waiters who really listen and never make a mistake. A fine place for a leisurely lunch these busy days.

SOMETHING HAPPENED TO ME SHORTLY AFTER HEIDI WAS BORN, REX! I—I GUESS I WAS OUT OF MY MIND!
I DIDN'T MEAN TO HURT HER! I LOVE HER, REX!
I KNOW YOU LOVE YOUR DAUGHTER, KAREN! WHAT HAPPENED?
I'M NOT SURE—BUT I WAS STANDING IN THE BEDROOM. HEIDI LAY THERE ON THE FLOOR BEFORE ME... VERY STILL!
CLARESSE HAD BEEN IN! SHE TOLD ME WHAT I HAD DONE! REX, I HAD TAKEN MY OWN CHILD AND THROWN HER TO THE FLOOR!

U.S., Canada Keep Defenses on Alert

OTTAWA (UP) — Soldiers and scientists of the United States and Canada are constantly reviewing defense methods and equipment, according to the chairman of the Canadian chiefs of staff.

Gen. Charles Foulkes said in an interview that "everything practicable is being done to provide an adequate and efficient air defense system." The hydrogen and atomic weapons did not spell the end of the infantry soldier he said.

"We may have to operate in smaller groups, supported by less transport, but as far as I can see, we will still need the foot soldier in any war of the future," he said.

Foulkes said NATO planners were not trying to match Russian military might man for man.

"There are in Europe today sufficient forces to form a shield to hold an initial attack and engage any attacking force while the full strength of NATO is being mobilized, and to allow time to strike retaliatory blows at the enemy's lines of communication," he said. "We believe it is essential to keep these forces at the minimum strength required to do the job."

Practical fountain pens were not in common use until after 1880.

Bible Words for Today

NUMBERS 6:25—"The Lord make his face to shine upon you, and be gracious to you." (RSV)

• • •

What value we put on the fact that people notice us! To have someone whom we respect turn his face toward us in a crowd makes us tingle with happiness. When someone fails to see us, or to recognize us, we feel a sense of disappointment.

The message of the Bible may almost be summarized in the statement that God turns His face toward us. He looks upon us, "as a father pities his children." All the work of God in His relation to man is to show him His grace and favor. The love of God is the turning of God's face toward us with affection and with blessing.

The happiness of life has its source in the conviction that God cares for us. He not only looks on us, but looks out for us. In the light of His countenance we find comfort, guidance, peace. His smile is our joy.

Construction of Hospital Three-Quarters Finished

Construction of the Marion General Hospital is now more than three-fourths completed.

Officials of the Knowlton Construction Co. said Wednesday that the entire project is now between "80 and 85 per cent complete."

—:—

LARGE EARTH-MOVING machines are now in the process of grading the site and the largest part of curbs for a parking lot and drive on the north side of the hospital connecting with an access road have been installed.

Inside the building, painting and decorating is in progress on all floors and workmen are completing the erection of doors on most of the rooms.

All windows, both inside and outside, have been installed and workmen Wednesday were starting installation of sound proofing ceiling panels in first floor hallways.

OTHER WORKMEN are nearing completion of grinding and polishing of terazzo floors on all three floors of the building.

On the northeast corner of the hospital site, other Knowlton workmen are erecting a brick building to house the gas meters and Ohio Fuel Gas Co. crews are preparing to install gas pipes from S. Prospect St. to the hospital.

On the outside of the building, other workmen were starting to plaster the ceiling of a first floor ambulance entrance.

Still no "official announcement" of the estimated completion date was made but some officials felt that the move to the new hospital from the present City Hospital could be made "sometime in October."

Crawford Veterans Schooling Deadline Scheduled Aug. 20

BUCYRUS — Russell D. Bash, Crawford County veterans' service officer, announced today that veterans who have been discharged before Aug. 21, 1952, must be in training or schooling before next Aug. 20 or they will lose their educational training benefits under present regulations.

There are about 40 veterans now enrolled as farm trainees at North Robinson and Lykens High Schools. John Dunbar is the farm trainee at North Robinson and John Welling is teaching at Lykens.

Classes at present start March 1 and Sept. 1 and there must be at least 10 veterans to start a new class. New classes will be started if enough veterans enroll before the deadline, Bash pointed out.

Veterans with no dependents can draw up to $95 a month. Those with one dependent can draw a maximum of $110 and those with more than one dependent can receive a maximum of $130 a month if on full time training.

Crawford Receives Auto License Tax

BUCYRUS — Crawford County and its municipalities have received $108,592, representing the second quarterly distribution of auto license tax money from the bureau of motor vehicles, County Auditor Naomi Haines announced here today.

The county received $44,973 for use by the county highway department.

Allocations to municipalities include: Galion, $8,622; Bucyrus, $6,321; Crestline, $2,507; New Washington, $648; Chatfield, $136; North Robinson, $139, and Tiro, $272. A distribution to the county's 16 townships will be made within the near future.

Brush Fire Endangers Homes of Film People

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A 20-acre brush fire destroyed one house and endangered movie players' dwellings in the Coldwater Canyon area before it was controlled yesterday.

Actor Jack Palance called firemen and wet down the rear of his house with a garden hose.

Homes of actor Ward Bond and actress Ella Raines are on nearby cross streets. Movie producer Charles Feldman lives two doors from Palance. Actor George Raft's home is two blocks away.

Chef Cleared To Start New Life With Bride

CINCINNATI (AP)—A pastry chef who gave himself up to police after escaping from the Jefferson City, Mo., Prison Farm, today is free to start a new life with his bride.

After marrying her recently, 25-year-old Cecil W. Hamm told his bride he had escaped from Missouri with only 12 days remaining of his sentence and was wanted on two false check charges there. She pleaded with him to turn himself in so they could start over again with a clean slate.

After he told police he wanted to make restitution for the bad checks, Gov. Frank J. Lausche refused to honor extradition papers for his return to Missouri. Yesterday Judge Ralph B. Kohnen dismissed a fugitive charge which had been filed against him.

Farmer Ponders Next Move as Cow Gets Stuck in Silo

NEW WINDSOR, Md. (AP) — Whitie's stuck in the silo.

Stanley Simons, good-natured owner of the 7-year-old holstein, said she wandered off after he milked her last evening. Somehow she squirmed her way in the empty 2½ by 2-foot silo door.

Simons is afraid he'll bruise her if he pulls her out and she'll bruise him if he pushed. And if she stays in too long and swells up, no telling when she'll get out.

If he has to, Simons said, he could go in the silo and milk Whitie but "she's moody and awfully touchy in her old age." He hopes she'll squirm out when she gets hungry or thirsty.

"I think she went in there to protest the price of milk," said Simons.

Boys Put Snow Fence To Good Summer Use

BOSTON (AP) —Massachusetts Public Works Commissioner John Volpe reported yesterday his department has loaned out five miles of snow fence this summer.

The principal borrower was the Little League, a baseball organization of boys. Some 38 teams have encircled their playing diamonds with snow fence sections.

ACTOR'S SON ILL

HOLLYWOOD (AP) —Radio actor Freeman F. Gosden, who is Amos of Amos and Andy, flew to Midland, Tex., last night to be with his son, Freeman F. Jr., 25, a polio patient.

Surgeon, 90, Calm While He Restores Patient's Heartbeat

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Mrs. Helen McDermott's heart stopped functioning during an operation last week but she resumed breathing when direct massage by the surgeon's hand restored the vital heart beat.

While this emergency procedure is no longer considered unusual, it was the first time her surgeon ever tried it. He's colorful, 90-year-old Dr. James P. Kerr.

Asked if he became excited or upset when his patient stopped breathing, Dr. Kerr replied:

"Hell, no. What's there to get excited about? I never get excited."

One of Georgia's newer industries is the manufacture of insulation board and acoustical material made from southern pine. One company turns out enough in a year to fill 3,000 boxcars.

Tariff Dilemma

The entire tree trade dilemma was packed into the argument President Eisenhower heard while making up his mind to order tariff boost on Swiss watch movements.

If he yielded to insistent demands by his own countrymen to protect a vitally important domestic interest — the watch business in this instance — he would hurt other domestic interests.

Every dollar's worth of buying power obtained by the Swiss from the sale of watch movements to the United States has been used to purchase American goods. Thus, it follows in the course of logic that every dollar's worth of buying power taken away from the Swiss by tariff manipulation will be taken away from Americans who produce goods and commodities that the Swiss no longer can buy.

This is the tariff dilemma. No one has figured out a way to settle it to everybody's satisfaction. The only logical settlement in the long run is the greatest good for the greatest number—a balancing of interests. But government officials are rarely given the privilege of making settlements in the long run. They are under pressures that are immediate and urgent — the kind exerted on President Eisnhower to persuade him that damage to Americans who sell things to Switzerland was less important than damage to American watchmakers who do not relish competition with Swiss watchmakers who work for a lower wage scale.

A New 'Niffles'

Official spokesmen are being hearty and optimistic about it, as they should be, but the blunt truth of the matter is that Niagara Falls is not the same as it was.

Twice since most of us saw it the first time the falls has fallen apart in a major way—once in 1931 and again this week. There will be a time when it won't even resemble the awe-inspiring sight it once was. The exact date has slipped our mind, but geologists say the erosion rate eventually will eliminate the falls entirely.

In any event, new picture post cards will have to be printed to bring them up to date. Old-timers who want to keep in touch with what's going on at the historic spot will have to go back for one more look. This is a changing world. Niagara Falls always has been subject to the lack of planning which is characteristic of the things nature is permitted to do for herself.

If men had made Niagara Falls in the first place, after much bickering, they would have reinforced it at the places where it now is crumbling. They would have calculated its stresses and strains down to tiny fractions. They would have made a better Cave of the Winds, and they would have made Prospect Point even more memorable for honeymooners than it has been since the railroads whooped it up as a terminal point for the first shared journey of newlyweds.

Men would have made Niffles a gigantic, stupendous, supercolossal public works project. Niffles? That is the name suggested by an Englishman who said it is what his countrymen would do with a title as long and as hard to say as Niagara Falls.

Final Act

There is an unavoidable likeness between the end of a Congress and the last act of a play. By one means or another, the stage must be cleared and all the loose ends tied up befor the curtain falls.

This leads to confusion both on the stage and in the audience. The players give the appearance of not knowing clearly what they are doing, and the audience finally begins to wonder what it is doing, too.

It is no comfort to be informed, morover, that this is the way it always is when a Congress is winding up its affairs. A constituent is inclined to mutter that if this is the way it always is, then something should be done about it. Congress stays in session for months on end and marks time, then lets itself get tied in knots at the end of its sesion. A constituent wonders why. Specifically, he wonders if there may be a method in the madness and if the method may be to force through Congress to do under chronological pressure a lot of things that never could be done without pressure.

These misgivings, themselves, have become part of the end of a congressional session. The truth is, the legislative process is not well adapted to orderliness and neatness, especially when so much depends on compromise. It is part of the nature of man to put off until the last minute what he would rather not do at all. It also is part of his nature not to yield until he has no further hope of victory.

It is impossible to know when the 83rd Congress will pass into limbo, but the probable date is July 31. Whether the event occurs then or a few days later, this is the final scene of the deliberative drama that began at noon, Jan. 3, 1953. If it gets confusing before the final curtain falls, that is the way it always has been. Only in dictatorships is government neat, orderly, systematic and despotic.

Grist for Republicans

By David Lawrence

Democratic Filibuster Can Backfire at Polls

Maybe the Democrats in the Senate have, by their 13-day "filibuster," unwittingly furnished the country with a very persuasive argument for electing a Republican majority in both houses of Congress next autumn.

The "filibuster" will be pointed out as an example of "obstructionism" and how the next two years can produce legislative chaos if the Democrats gain control of Congress.

Until just a few weeks ago, in recognition of the political and personal popularity of President Eisenhower, the Democrats in Congress were boasting that they were doing more to secure the passage of the main items in the Eisenhower legislative program than were the members of his own party.

Now, when it becomes apparent that the Republicans are showing unity as the major issues come to final votes in the closing days of the session, there is a change of tactics. The tax bill passed the House by enough Republican votes, irrespective of any Democratic aid.

Whatever their reasons for deciding to spend 13 days in obstructing public business, the Democrats — and it appears to have been a concerted move — gave, unintentionally some valuable ammunition to the Republican stump speakers.

THUS, AT A TIME when matters have reached a critical stage throughout the world and important appropriation bills containing measures of military and economic aid were held up by the 13-day filibuster, the delay was dramatically emphasized before the whole country.

The Republican spokesmen will ask the voters to decide whether they can expect the Democrats to "cooperate" or to "obstruct," and they will point to the "filibuster" as a glaring example of party irresponsibility.

President Eisenhower expects to make a number of speeches in behalf of the Republican party before the autumn congressional elections take place. His whole effort will be aimed at getting a vote of confidence from the American people. If they want his leadership continued and if they want the kind of administration for which such a preponderant majority of the people voted in 1952, will they get it by electing Democrats next autumn who will be committed to follow the party strategy of doing everything possible to obstruct the legislative program of the President and to wreck the administration?

Before the 13-day "filibuster," such an argument might have been regarded as the usual theme of a congressional campaign in the middle of an administration.

After the "filibuster" and the tactics used to prevent the passage of important bills, the country will not need much convincing that extreme partisanship still holds sway in the minority party and that two years of frustration lie ahead if the President's party is not given a majority at the polls.

SOME OF THE Republicans have themselves done a great deal of harm to the President's program by diversionary measures but not one of them can be justly convicted of having actually held up public business, as did the 13-day "filibuster." What is important is that the Democratic party did not accidentally take the course that was recently followed but decided on it in a deliberate way after conferences among the party members.

Wrapped up in the "filibuster" question, of course, is the attitude of southern Democrats who see in that technique the only way to keep from being passed a flood of legislation applying the non-segregation principle to a lot of problems, from public housing to government contracts, and other laws to which provisions objectionable to the South could be attached.

If these ever come to a vote, there's a majority to adopt them and hence the southern Democrats feel they have a vested right, so to speak, in keeping the "filibustering" technique uncurbed.

Some of the Republican party have not been inclined to press such questions in deference to some of their southern colleagues who were voting with them on basic issues of conservatism versus radicalism. But the South lately has been sending to Congress some radicals who do not vote with the northern conservatives, and there is a tendency now among northern Republicans to feel that the time may have come to force a strict cloture rule through the Senate so as to prohibit unlimited debate.

THE SOUTHERN DEMOCRATS and the northern Republicans have operated a conservative coalition for many years but the attitude of some of the southerners seems to have been changing, especially toward the government - ownership side. So the Republicans in the northern states will have a much more penetrating issue on the subject of party responsibility than they have had before if they begin to take up the unlimited - debate rule which the Democrats by concerted action have frankly utilized to try to block legislation.

Few issues are as easy to explain to the voters as the one that says a majority shall rule and a minority shall not obstruct.

The big issue could be whether the Democrats should be given an opportunity to control Congress and to bring on more of the kind of irresponsible government which the 13-day "filibuster" so vividly illustrated.

Voice of Reason Too Often Unheeded

By Raymond Moley

Back there in the days when schoolboys sharpened their English on Daniel Webster and Edmund Burke, they knew by heart the opening lines of the memorable reply to Hayne. Memory slips a bit on this, but the gist was that Webster told the Senate that after the many days of storm, wise mariners, at the first break, consulted their instruments on the sly to see where they were.

It might be well for all of us whose sensibilities have lost track of things in the howling storm of words uttered by the opponents of the Atomic Energy bill to go back to the beginning of this debate and read the measured and reasonable speech of a Democrat who has, in this instance, kept faith with the finer traditions of his party, John O. Pastore of Rhode Island.

His speech, I believe, is the best of all the utterances in this long session.

PASTORE IS a member of the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy, which was formerly and creditably headed by Sen. McMahon and of which the chairman is now Congressman Cole of New York. It is in the main a fine committee with foremost representatives of both parties and of both houses of Congress.

This committee, Pastore said, gave the bill "the most scrupulous kind of study. During the present session of the Congress, the committee has held more than 70 meetings, both in executive and public session. Witnesses from every phase of our society were heard.

"Many hours were devoted in refining the manifold provisions of the bill. . .the fact that the members of the joint committee have come into accord on the broad features of this proposed legislation is, in my opinion, its greatest compliment.

"Throughout the entire deliberations on this bill, the members have demonstrated an exemplary spirit of nonpartisanship."

Pastore made clear that he, as well as other members of the committee, worked sympathetically to achieve in the bill the three objectives stated by the President.

THESE WERE increased cooperation with our allies in the use of atomic power, improved procedures for controlling atomic information, and the encouragement of private participation in the development of peacetime atomic power.

The bill, Pastore asserted, did achieve those ends.

He went on to point out that he had always believed in the TVA, in rural electrification, and in the great power projects of the Northwest.

Pastore cannot be convicted as an enemy of proper government enterprise. He assured his colleagues who were afraid of private monopoly that no such thing would be possible under the provisions of the bill.

He said, "This registration does not prejudice the question of wheher atomic power some day will be generated primarily by private owned utilities or by public power corporations. The problem that we face today is a problem of devising ways and means of encouraging an attack on the scientific and engineering problems which must be solved before power from the atom can be competitive with electricity secured from conventional fuels."

Despite this assurance, some of his colleagues have injected the most violent partisanship, not to say demagoguery into this debate.

This is not the conduct of a responsible party. It is the conduct of an irresponsible minority willing to use this serious problem for selfish ends.

Muscles or Mush?

By TRUMAN TWILL

Those knuckleheads intended to drift from San Francisco to Hawaii on a raft and had to be fished out of the briny by a passing freighter before they ever cleared the coastal waters have our deepest sympathy.

They will never write "Kon-Tiki" and make a mint of money. They will never loll about in the laps of dark-skinned babes twittery with hero worship for the white men who came in the boat with no engines. But they have qualified themselves to give expert estimony on the greatest of all human adventures.

It is the big project that never comes off—the one that breaks your heart.

It is the flight across the ocean that comes to a sudden and soul-wracking stop in a marsh at the end off the runway; the airplane never gets air-borne.

It is the dinner party when the young couple with big ideas about the future hope to make a good impression on the boss but everything goes wrong; the boss is full of sympathy but nothing else.

It is the mountain climber who twists his ankle stepping off the verandah of the hotel at the bottom of the mountain; he never has another chance.

It is the tournament golfer who posts his score improperly with no intent to fool anybody but has to be ruled out of further play on the brink of his greatest opportunity to hit the big money; the opportunity never comes again.

It is the touted star of the team who reaches his finest hour on one of those days when a fellow gets out of bed backward; he is known ever afterward as the fellow who didn't come through when the chips were down.

It is the speaker whose words are going to fall on his listeners' ear like the tinkle of mountain brooks and the roar of mighty rivers and gets laryngitis the day before his finest hour; he never is reconciled to his fate.

It is the sweet young thing who dreams for days about being the queen of the ball and gets the mumps three days before the great occasion; there never will be another occasion quite like it.

It is the writer who polishes a gem of his prose style until it glistens, then learns too late that typographical gremlins turned his triumph into gobbledygook; his confidence never returns.

It is the singer who is going along double peachy dandy when for no known reason there is a sound like a nail file being pulled across the edge of a piece of broken glass; the critics will remember nothing else.

It is the slick chick demonstrating the ease of operating the Whatever Whingus Waffle Walloper when the infernal thing turns into a web of sticky frustration on a nationwide TV hookup; all potential sponsors be forever forewarned.

It is the camera hound who sniffs endlessly on the trail of the perfect picture, finally finds what he is looking for and forgets to take the dust cover off the lens; he never feels the same again.

It is the channel swimmer who gets wamped with sea water and has to be pumped out ignominiously, the actor who muffs his lines on opening night, the inventor who learns his great idea already has made somebody else a million dollars, the bride who gets left at the church—and the carefree adventurers who are going to let Pacific currents carry them from San Francisco to Bloo Havawee but are still in sight of land when they have to call it quits because they can't stand the gaff.

That is the kind of disappointment that tests what little boys and girls are made of—muscle or mush.

Marion County History Brevities

By EDNA S. DUTTON

The interest and financial support of Edward Huber, pioneer industrialist of Marion, is credited with the establishing of a public library in the city. Believing that the city would benefit from such an institution, he rented the second story of the Conrad Block on N. Main St., later occuppied by the John F. Lust Candy Co., with the determination that in case other shops did not join in the movement, he would stock it with suitable reading matter and keep the rooms open from 7 to 10 p.m. for the benefit of the Huber employes. Other factories and industries entered into the movement with the result that on May 20, 1886, the Mechanics Library Association was organized, a constitution adopted and trustees elected.

From Our Readers

To The Star:

This is in reply to the editorial in The Star of July 20 captioned "Is Sickness Insurance Socialism?"

I have seen sickness and accident policies on which the annual premium rate was as high as 25 per cent of the total risk of the company. We have seen fit to pass laws to protect the public against stock frauds and against usury, and life insurance companies are under strict regulation, but there are no laws to protect the purchaser of sickness and accident insurance.

Before any tax money is used to subsidize this insurance business there should be a good housecleaning. If President Eisenhower's proposal was so good, why do you suppose the insurance companies were not lobbying for it? There are companies that would dread to have the government looking into their business.

The reasons you give for the medical lobbyists opposing the bill are asinine. The cost of medical care has gone up rapidly, not just because everything costs more but because of progress in the medical sciences that give the physician hundreds of new diagnostic procedures and tests and even new diseases to diagnose and treat.

Insurance premiums for hospitalization and other medical care had to go up also. This will mean that some families will have to drop their insurance because they cannot afford to pay for it. These are the people that the doctor and hospital want most to be able to keep their insurance. They want this for very simple economic reasons. If this group gets large enough they will be able to go to the polls and say, "We want this insurance, too, and we want the government to buy it for us." That will be socialism.

We are being socialized piecemeal and the medical profession's day is near at hand, helped along by editorials such as the one referred to above and many others like it in magazines and the daily press.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Secretaries, Beauty Queens, Etc.

Genevieve Lenz, of Niagara Falls, was chosen Miss Secretary of the Year at the National Secretaries' Convention, clinching victory by stating, in response to a quiz, that she is always happy to do personal errands for the boss and work overtime. On top of finding his glasses for him, seeing that he takes his ulcer tablets, reminding him that he is signing the letter upside down, checking on the paper cups, giving the correct answer to "Do I need a shave?" and telling him where he keeps his umbrella! All this and settling the question whether the letter to Blitz, McGinty and Smith should have gone to Wimple, Shanahan and Epstein, too!

What we want to know is where the secretary finished who said, "Why should I work overtime if the old grouch takes three hours for lunch and ties up the whole office?" and "personal errands? Listen, ya start by dropping into the five and ten to get the egghead some ink and you wind up shopping all over town for a necktie, office furniture, golf balls, trout flies, Scotch, and hair tonics?" . . . We shall refer to her as Miss Maggie Kilcullen, and she snapped, "I lost the big one, but I retain my two big titles."

"What were they?" we asked

"I was Miss Quit-on-Time in 1950," she replied, "and I was runner-up in 1953 for the title of the Secretary Most Likely to Forget to Put in the Carbon Paper and Spell Idiosyncrasies Wrong."

"Do you run any errands for the boss?" we asked.

"Only to get him a paper so he can see what ball game to go to immediately after calling off a half dozen business engagements because of the pressure of important matters," she said.

Then there is Miss Mariam Stevenson, a South Carolina dish who has been named Miss Universe, which covers a lot of territory and which could reopen the war between the North and South. What goes in clinching a title as Miss Universe or Miss Cosmos? Must her dimples look as good to Egypt and Ireland as to America and New Guinea? Must her legs seem as perfect to Outer Mongolia as to England? Need her torso impress Thailand, Greece and Somaliland, just as it impresses California, South Carolina and Gotham?

From Greenwood S. C. to Miss Universe is quite a trip and since it was something of a photo finish, with a gal from Brazil with cuties from other nations close-up, this can result in another headache for the United Nations' Security Council. (We hear the Russians insist there is a Miss Ukraine who has better hips and that the U.S.S.R. can produce a girl who, thanks to the teachings of Lenin, surpasses all others in a bathing suit.)

Chou En Lai has not been heard from but that Red China will seat Greenwood's Miss Universe unless America seats Red China is unlikely. Incidentally, it must be tough when the winner of a Miss America or Miss Universe title settles down years later and learns that she is regarded in the neighborhood as "the woman next door."

Steve Allen and Jayne Meadows went to Waterford, Conn., for their marriage license and we'll bet nobody on Broadway knows that Waterford is a picturesque country town hard by the Niantic River and Long Island Sound. We always call the place Niantic and have fished there for striped bass ever since we were knee-high to a grasshopper. In spirit it is about as far north from Broadway and Hollywood as you can get.

The Indochina settlement looks like Munich in technicolor.

A return match between Rocky Marciano and Ezzard Charles seems certain, the idea probably being that there is still a big public for a good farce comedy.

Marionite In National Sorority Post

Elected to office at the first national Y-Gradale Sorority convention in Colorado last week, a Marion woman, Mrs. Rex O'Brien of 534 Uncapher Ave., moves to office of a national vice president from an area presidency.

She is a past president of Beta Y-Gradale, local chapter, and has been serving as head of the Ohio-West Virginia Area. The convention was held at Estes Park, Colo., from July 19 to 23, in conjunction with the national YMCA Young Adult Assembly there. Accompanying Mrs. O'Brien on her trip were her daughter, Maureen, and her mother, Mrs. Helen Tharp of Marion.

In her new post, she is vice president of the eastern section of the national Y-Gradale for a three-year term. She worked on a commission to help form the national organization and attended meetings at Columbus and at Philadelphia, Pa., for that purpose during the last year.

President of the new national organization is from Lebanon, Pa., and vice president of the western section is a Seattle, Wash. woman. Ohio's delegates from various YMCA's throughout the state were among a total attendance of 382. A Canton, O., man was elected president of the YMCA Young Adult Assembly.

Speakers include a Utah congressman, the YMCA general secretary, a native boys' work secretary from Hong Kong, China, and national Y staff members from Geneva, Switzerland, and an international committee secretary from Rome, Italy. They All Wear Pink in Maine Village

Women in Rangeley Try Out New Coat Fabric For Manufacturer

RANGELEY, Maine—There are 40 women in this little town wearing the same pink coats.

There is no embarrassment, no hasty retreat as one wearer approaches another, or a dozen, or 39. There are smiles and considerable discussion. That's the way it's supposed to be. In Rangeley, at this particular time, it's quite distinctive to be wearing one of these pink coats.

IT'S ALL PART of an experiment. Rangeley, at 1,540 feet above sea level, is New England's highest village and it's halfway between the North Pole and the Equator. The lake summer resort was selected as a testing ground for the orlon acrylic fiber garments. Wanted was a place where evenings are cool enough to require a "topper" in June, July and August.

When the test is ended, the women can keep the coats, in return for reports on their comfort and durability.

The ladies were selected on the basis of varied size, weight and occupation. Each got two coats, differing only in fiber, a calendar on which to record the hours each garment is worn, and a detailed questionnare.

WHAT DOES the fabric manufacturer want to know?

How does the material "feel" to the women? How about wrinkling, soiling, cleaning?

The women wear each coat on alternate days. The objective is to compare one with the other, from a consumer viewpoint.

Choosing the women wasn't easy. Nearly everyone wanted the coats. But the testers were chosen from among housewives, school teachers, waitresses, telephone operators, store and bank clerks and stenographers. Their ages range from 19 through 59.

The coats are worth $35 to $45 each. In fact, one question is: "How much would you be willing to pay for one of these coats?"

—:—

"THE TEST IS a bit of work, but a lot of fun," says Mrs. Robert Lee. "I'd like to get all my clothing this way."

"They're very warm without being bulky," says Mrs. Norma Wilbur.

Rangley has a normal population of about 1,250. Figure two-thirds of them children and half of the adults women—about 215—that's a lot of pink coats per female capita.

Marionite Interviews One of 4 Remaining Civil War Veterans

The hobby of a Marion man reached a high point during a recent vacation trip through the south when he met one of the few remaining survivors of the Civil War.

Ray Brandum of 648 Davids St. for several years has been interested in the lives of veterans — both Union and Confederate — of the war.

"When I first got interested in them, there were about 70 still living — now there are just four, three Confederate and one Union army veteran," he said.

For more than six years, he has scanned newspapers and magazines for any articles written on the four. Every story found has been cut out and pasted into scrap books.

"I don't know just why I got interested in them, but one of my grandfathers fought in the Confederate army and the other in the Union Army," Brandum says.

With only four of the vets left, Brandum decided he'd like to see and talk to one of them this summer. So, when he and his wife planned a vacation trip this summer with their niece, Winnie Brandum of Cardington, they decided to go to Slant, Va. to see John Salling who last May celebrated his 108th birthday.

Good Sense of Humor

"We talked to him for about 45 minutes and found he was both alert mentally and had a very good sense of humor," Brandum said. Salling enjoys company and likes to talk. "When he finds something funny he laughs so hard he shakes," he added.

As the Brandums visited with him, Salling said the most important thing in his 108 years was seeing the north and south "bury the hatchet." He also recalled that last year at a Confederate veterans reunion in Mobile he telephoned long distance to the lone Union army vet — Albert Woolson, 107, of Duluth, Minn. — and said to him, "God bless you."

Ray plans to continue gathering clippings of the Civil War veterans as long as they live. If he has the opportunity, he may visit one of the others. In addition to Saling and Woolson the others are Walter Williams, 111, of Texas and William Lunday, 106, of Fla.

Tokyo Cab Driver Returns $100,000, Declines Reward

TOKYO (AP)—A Tokyo taxi driver returned about $100,000 worth of bank checks and promissory notes—and refused a reward, police said today.

He turned the bundle over to police who found the owner. Offered a reward, the driver, Hiroshi Oomioka, 35, turned it down.

"I only did the right thing," he said.

Negotiations Under Way

Bethlehem-Youngstown Steel Merger in Making

NEW YORK (AP)—Board Chairman Eugene G. Grace of Bethlehem Steel Corp. Thursday confirmed published reports that his company is negotiating for a merger with Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co.

Grace said: I'll confirm the rumor to the extent that Bethlehem and Youngstown are discussing the matter."

The merger talk involves the nation's No. 2 steel producer, Bethlehem, and the sixth largest, Youngstown.

Bethlehem's present rated annual capacity is 18,500,000 net tons of ingots and steel for castings and Youngstown's is 5,500,000 net tons.

Would Extend Operations

The combined facilities would total 24,000,000 net tons in rated annual capacity — still far below that of United States Steel Corp., which is 38,715,000 net tons.

The combination, however, would extend Bethlehem's operations from the east, where they have previously been confined, to the west, where a gigantic demand for steel exists. Youngstown Sheet and Tube has plants at Youngstown, Ohio, and Chicago.

A merger also would extend Bethlehem's interest to seamless pipe, which it has not been producing whereas Youngstown has.

It also would open up further sources of ore for Bethlehem as Youngstown is one of five midwest companies which own iron mines in Labrador.

Grace said:

"We are not at a point, naturally, to divulge details of our discussions. We wouldn't be discussing it if we didn't have something in mind in respect to finding a basis for doing the job."

Underway for Some Time

Grace added that the discussions had been under way "for quite some time."

"We felt pretty good that we kept the discussions covered up all this time," he commented.

Earlier Bethlehem declared a dividend of $1.25 a share on the common stock. With the exception of the two preceding quarters, Bethlehem has been paying $1 a share at quarterly intervals in recent years. In the first quarter $2 a share was paid and in the second quarter $1.25 was paid.

The big corporation reported net income in the second quarter was $30,785,412, equal to $3.04 a share, compared with $28,534,103, or $2.81 a share, in the second quarter of booming 1953. Income in the first quarter of 1954 was $27,602,938 equal to $2.73 a share.

The common dividend is payable Sept. 1 to stock of record Aug. 9.

Earnings for the first six months totaled $58,558,350, of $5.77 a common share, this year compared with $59,495,136, or $5.87 for the first half of 1953.

Galion Youngster Critically Injured In Mishap on Farm

GALION—A three-year-old Galion boy is alive but in "critical" condition today at Galion City Hospital with injuries suffered when he was run over by the front wheel of a farm tractor driven by his father.

Philip Seitz, 3, the youngest of six children of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Seitz of west of Galion, is in City Hospital with a skull fracture, fractured leg, broken rib and collar bone.

About 8 p.m. Thursday, after supper, Mr. Seitz went out to put the hay baler away. He thought the three-year-old boy was still at the supper table. Seitz backed the farm tractor up, felt the wheel hit something and found the youngster unconscious on the ground. Mrs. Seitz rushed the boy to the hospital.

The parents believed the youngster got into the path of the tractor because he couldn't see well. His eyes were swollen from being stung by a bee earlier in the day.

Navy Bomber Ditches; 11 in Crew Are Rescued

QUONSET POINT, R. I. (AP)—The 11 crewmen of a Navy bomber plane which sank 130 miles off Montauk Point, N. Y., agreed today that none was seriously injured because of the "smooth manner" with which they took to two life rafts.

Only one of the rescued crewmen was injured slightly, and only one got wet.

Cmdr. Arthur W. Jones, 34, of Woonsocket, R. I., pilot of the Navy two-engine plane, said he was forced to ditch the craft yesterday when the only engine working at the time conked out.

Others on the plane included W. M. H. Grant, second radio man, New Carlisle, Ohio.

Polio Strikes as Young Couple Await 3rd Child

LOS ANGELES (AP)— Infantile paralysis struck Don Muir, 26, and his 19-year-old wife just before their third child was born but he cheerfully reports that "we're doing all right" and the baby is fine.

Muir, an aircraft worker who came here eight months ago from Mendon, Utah, was stricken last week but has a mild case. Early this week Mrs. Muir was stricken, too, but her baby girl, 5 pounds, 13 ounces, was born Wednesday and hers is also a mild polio case.
